FRENCH AEROPLANES LAUNCH ATTACK IN AIR FIGHT WIND

FURTHER ADVANCES CLAIMED BY BERLIN

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Further German advances in the vicinity of Souchez, where the cemetery was captured from the French early on Monday, are reported in the official statement from Berlin. The Germans claim to have pushed their positions forward across the cemetery along a width of 600 yards and captured the cabaret Rouge on the road to Arras. The French declare a violent attack by German troops in the Labyrinth was beaten off.

Hard fighting continued in the Woevre region, where the Germans are believed in Paris to have resumed the drive at Verdun. The French reports hand grenade combats and cannonading at Apremont, Regnieville and in Le Pretre forest. The Germans claim to have broken up with heavy losses four French attacks on Le Pretre forest positions.

Thirty-five French aeroplanes swept over the railroad station serving the Calonne trench region and that of the Apremont forest. The wind was blowing forty miles an hour, the French report states, but despite this 171 bombs were dropped and several fires were started. All the airmen escaped.

Berlin, July 13.—(Via London 3:30 p. m.)—The German army headquarters staff today gave out the following official statement: "In the western theater: A French hand grenade attack at the sugar refinery of Souchez was repulsed. In connection with the stormy attack on the cemetery our positions were pushed forward across the cemetery over a width of 600 yards and the Caberet Rouge situated on the road to Arras, also was captured.

"The number of prisoners has increased to three officers and 250 men. Several attempted enemy counter attacks were subjected to our fire and their execution thereby was prevented.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle the enemy developed lively artillery activity. He attacked our positions in the forest of Le Pretre four times in the course of the evening and night. The

STUDIES OUT CASE ALONE

Wilson at Cornish Leaves Order That He is Not to Be Disturbed.

PRESIDENT MAPPING AMERICA'S POLICY

Final Decision in German Situation May Not Come Until Next Week.

Cornish, N. H., July 13.—President Wilson devoted his attention today to a detailed study of the situation growing out of the receipt of the recent note in German submarine warfare. After a game of golf with Dr. Cary T. Grayson on a course near here, he returned to his study at Harlakenden house, with the official text of the note before him.

The president, who gave directions that he be left undisturbed, had absolute seclusion and quiet for the consideration of the German situation. No plans were made this morning for President Wilson's return to Washington and there was every indication that he intended remaining here several days longer. By the time he goes back to Washington it is expected he will have the next step in the American policy mapped out in a general way in his own mind.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

Washington, July 13.—Secretary Lansing said today there were no developments in the situation with Germany, that he had no word from President Wilson and did not know whether he would go to Cornish, or await the

CALHOUN STREET FIRE LOSS $5,000

National Meat Market and Jefferson Shoe Store Damaged by Blaze.

THE LOSSES.

Randall & Stults, on building	$2,000
National Market Company	2,000
Jefferson Shoestore	1,000

Fire, the origin of which is now being investigated by fire department officials, did damage amounting to about $5,000 to the Randall & Stults building at 1032 Calhoun street shortly before 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. The National Market company, in which shop the blaze was discovered, and the Jefferson Shoestore suffered the losses.

Patrolman Pat Madden discovered smoke pouring out of the airshaft in the rear of the building and close to the Jefferson theater at 4:30 o'clock and pulled box No. 115 at Jefferson and Calhoun. When the apparatus from No. 3 engine house arrived the fire seemed to be in the Jefferson street side of the block, and it was not until Capt. John Stahlhut ran around the corner to the meat market and saw the flames in the rear that the seat of the blaze was known. Smashing the big front door the firemen were almost overpowered by the heat, but began a hard fight to get at the flames in the rear.

Quell Blaze Quickly.

In the meantime No. 1 and No. 5 engine companies arrived and began to work from adjoining roofs, for by this time the flames had broken through the top of the building. Two engines and the chemical stream were used, and in less than forty-five minutes the fire was practically out.

However, it had burned through the ceiling of the meat market into the sec-

He said that the league should boost for a Young Men's Christian association building, for the new Hope hospital, the playgrounds and all other institutions for the good of the city.

Mr. Price's Address.

Upon the election of Mr. Price as president of the league he delivered the following address of acceptance:

Gentlemen:

I believe that it will be understood without any elaborate expression on my part that I cannot feel otherwise than highly complimented by the honor you have conferred upon me this evening.

But since our time as serious men, engaged in serious business, is too valuable to be wasted in complimentary inanities, I shall deny you the privilege of hearing what a fine bunch of exceedingly intelligent men you are and what excellent judgment you exercised in the selection of your nominating committee.

As I look upon this body of Christian men, and see the possibilities in

JURY MAY GET THAW CASE BY TOMORROW

Defendant in Court Maps Out Auto Trip He'll Take When Freed.

New York, July 13.—Attorneys appearing in Harry K. Thaw's sanity trial today hoped that the case might be in the hands of the jury tomorrow. While Dr. Austin Flint, first of the state's alienists, was being cross examined today, Thaw sat in the court room mapping out the route for the automobile trip he expects to take to the Panama exposition if set free.

John B. Stanchfield, chief counsel for Thaw, closely questioned Dr. Flint, apparently with the idea of showing, if possible, that he was mistaken yesterday when he declared that constitutional inferiority with a paranoiac tendency, which he described Thaw as having, was a designation adopted by the medical profession within the past two years. However, it was shown that the term had been recognized since 1908 and that constitutional inferiority was a distinct form of insanity.

A report of Dr. Flint's hospital was then read to the jury, which stated that eighteen out of twenty-one persons suffering from constitutional inferiority recovered. Dr. Flint then said that he was willing to drop the paranoiac trend and the constitutional inferiority qualifications and call Thaw a pure paranoiac.

LONG UNCONSCIOUS AFTER AN ASSAULT

Fred Lageman Has Been in Insensible State for Four Days.

Following an assault made on him Saturday evening by Alfred Boerger, aged 22, of 1914 Hanna street, Fred Lageman, aged 40, of 243 Weisser Park avenue, has lain in an unconscious condition at his home under the care of a physician. Beyond a gash in his scalp, where he came in contact with an iron fence on Hanna street, near Lasselle, when Boerger knocked him down, Lageman has no evidence of injuries, save his persistent insensibility. Dr. A. J. Kesler, who attends him, says there is no indication of a fracture of the skull, but that the man has sustained a terrific concussion.

Lageman was walking along Hanna street Saturday evening with his child in his arms when he was accosted by Boerger, who came out of a barber shop near Lasselle street. Some words followed and Boerger delivered Lageman a heavy blow, knocking him down. In falling Lageman's head struck the iron fence. There had been ill-feeling between the two men for a fortnight prior to the assault.

Boerger was arrested at his home shortly after noon Tuesday by Detective Sergeants Charles Spillner and Peter Junk on a charge of assault and battery and is held without bond to await the outcome of Lageman's injuries.

Lageman's condition is said on Tuesday afternoon to be critical and the result is a matter of grave doubt.

NICHOLSON IS NEW HEAD OF THE ELKS

Los Angeles, Cal., July 13.—The grand lodge of Elks opened its session here today with the election of officers, a mere formality, which installed James R. Donahue, New London, Conn., grand tyler, and Charles Black, Oklahoma City, grand inner guard. Fred C. Robinson, Dubuque, and Charles A. White, Chicago, were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

GETTING IN TOUCH WITH MEXICO CITY

Washington, July 13.—American Consul Silliman, at Vera Cruz, telegraphed the state department today that the first cable message went through to Mexico City yesterday and that the first through train from Vera Cruz to the capital was expected to reach Mexico City today.

Large forces of workmen are busy on the telegraph lines and the communication is expected to improve rapidly. The accumulated messages, Consul Silliman reported, run into the thousands. Railroad communication will not be fully effective until tomorrow, though passengers go forward today by changing at Puebla.

EXPERTS NEEDED TO MAKE LAWS, HE SAYS

Many inconsistencies in the law were cited by Harry Hilgemann, prosecuting attorney, in an address delivered at noon Tuesday at the regular weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange at the Commercial club.

He declared that a man who misuses an animal is liable to a fine of $200 and six months' imprisonment, while the maximum punishment for a person who misuses or abuses a child is but $50 and thirty days' imprisonment.

The speaker declared practically everything else is done by experts except the making of laws, which is one reason for the many inconsistencies. He said, however, that after the law is violated there are always plenty of experts to take care of the violator.

Mr. Hilgemann said the people of Fort Wayne should take more interest in civic matters and take advantage of the opportunities afforded in a free republic such as this one.

LAST MINUTE NEWS

El Paso, Texas, July 13.—General Villia is about to turn the active command of his army over to General Jose Isabel Robles in order that terms of peace in Mexico may be agreed upon according to a report received here today and credited by prominent Carranza adherents. The report lacks confirmation. Robles is said to have been the intermediary in a plan for peace.

JUDGE EICHHORN QUALIFIES IN CASE

Indianapolis, July 13.—Judge William H. Eichhorn, of Bluffton, who is to sit as judge in the trials of Thomas Taggart, Mayor Joseph E. Bell and more than one hundred other men who are charged with election frauds, returned to Muncie, where he is presiding in a law suit, today, after having qualified for special judge in the local case.

In an informal discussion of the election fraud cases one of the attorneys said he would not be ready for trial until the second week in September.

SOUTH BEND MAN SELLS OLD VIOLIN FOR $1,500.

South Bend, Ind., July 13.—H. Guy Moyer, of Freeport, Pa., today purchased from Frederick Williams, of this city, a Nicola Amati violin made in 1667, for fifteen hundred dollars.

REPORT ON MILITARY POLICY READY SOON

Washington, July 13.—The report of the board of army officers working out a military policy to be submitted to congress probably will be completed, it became known today, early next month. This will give Secretary Garrison ample time to prepare his estimates by October and in time for a special session of congress should one be called for that month. No hint as to the increases in men or guns to be recommended by the board has been given out.

Reports of military observers abroad are considered and whatever light they throw on army problems arising from the European war will be reflected in the report.

HIGH WATER MENACES CROPS.

Rapidly Rising Ohio Threatens Bumper Corn Yield in Posey.

Mt. Vernon, Ind., July 13.—Posey county's prospects for a bumper corn crop are being seriously menaced by the rapidly rising Ohio river. The Wabash is already out of its banks and considerable damage already has been reported. Wheat has begun to sprout in the shock because of the continued rains.

WILL HEALTH BOARD DEAL LIQUOR BLOW?

Question of Its Power to Stop Sales is to Be Brought Up.

Indianapolis, July 13.—Whether the state board of health has power to regulate, or perhaps prohibit, the sale of alcohol and alcoholic products in the state of Indiana will be brought up before the next meeting of the board. A fight for some sort of drastic action by the board against alcoholic beverages will be started by Dr. James R. Boyers, president of the board.

Dr. Boyers and others believe, it is said, that the state board has powers to attack alcoholic beverages on the ground that they are disease producers. Just what form such a fight against liquor would take is, of course, not known, but supporters of the scheme believe the board has wide powers in the situation.

The announcement that the Indiana liquor situation might be attacked came unexpected today from Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner; who said he was not certain when the next meeting of the state board would be held. Dr. Boyers has power to call a special meeting. Dr. Hurty said he was uninformed as to whether Dr. Boyers contemplated a special meeting. Ordinarily the board would not meet again until September in regular session.

The attempt to find a way for the Indiana board to attack the liquor problem is parallel with action already planned, and about to be taken by Dr. S. S. Goldwater, health commissioner of New York city. Dr. Goldwater's contemplated plan of action has been outlined to the Indiana board.

ENTIRE CREW SAFE IN PORT

Picked Up in Lake Huron After Choctaw Sinks in Collision.

COAL STEAMER IS SEVERED IN TWAIN

Goes Down So Quickly That Men Are Forced to Leap Overboard.

Port Huron, Mich., July 13.—Captain Charles Fox and crew of the steamer Choctaw, of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, laden with coal up-bound, which was cut in two off Presque Isle, Lake Huron, during heavy fog Monday morning are safe in port at Sarnia, Ontario, opposite here, where they arrived today aboard the steamer Wahcondan, of the Canada steamship lines, limited.

The Choctaw sank immediately after collision with the Wahcondah. The latter's bow was punctured and she received a large hole in her side, it is said, but water tight compartments kept her afloat.

According to the report of Captain D. F. Cornell, of the Wahcondah, the Choctaw sank so quickly some of the crew could not reach life boats and were compelled to jump overboard. The lake was comparatively calm, however, and they succeeded in keeping afloat until rescued by boats from the Canadian vessel. The loss of the Choctaw and her cargo is estimated at $125,000, while the damage to the Wahcondah will amount to several thousand dollars. The Choctaw was 206 feet long with a beam of 28 feet and a depth of 23 feet. She was built in 1892. The members of the crew left for their homes today.

TOLEDO WILL GET GIFT OF BELGIAN

Art Treasure Appreciation of Brand Whitlock and American People.

Toledo, Ohio, July 13.—Because Brand Whitlock is a Toledoan and because he has made himself the idol of the Belgian people, one of the finest art treasures of the war devastated kingdom will soon hang in the Toledo museum of art.

As a token of appreciation for what the people of the United States has done for Belgium, Charles Leon Cardon, artist and collector of Brussels, has presented to the people of this country the most celebrated painting in his collection. It is Van Dykes sketch for his picture, "Saint Martin Partagant Sen Manteau," according to information just received from Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, by Marshall Sheppay, of Toledo.

In a letter to Mr. Sheppay, Mr. Whitlock says that in Mr. Cardon's home on the Quai Au' Bois a Bruker in Brussels there are the results of two generations of artistic appreciation, and that the gift, "Saint Martin cutting his mantle and sharing it with a poor man" is the prize picture of the collection. In the letter of presentation Mr. Cardon says in part:

"The Belgians have contracted toward the citizens of the republic of the United States a debt of gratitude from which they can never free themselves. With a generosity, an enthusiasm, a grandeur of soul of which history offers no example they have come to the aid of our population whom famine was staring in the face.

"Thanks to your noble citizens, thousands and thousands of Belgians have not been victims of a horrible hunger and continue still to live and to work for the approaching rebirth of their unhappy country.

"I should be happy if I could be favored by seeing this souvenir of art of the Flemish school find its place among the collections of the museum of art at Toledo, Ohio.

"In that city the residence of his excellency, Brand Whitlock, it will recall the many things that Monsieur Ministere by his high intelligence and inexhaustible devotion, has been able to realize to the profit of our unhappy country so cruelly and unjustly tried."

THE STORE THAT DOES THINGS

GERMAN COMMANDER'S SILENCE MYSTIFIES

London, July 13.—Contradictory reports regarding the extent of the Austro-Hungarian reverse at Krasnik, in southern Russian Poland continue, some even claiming that the Austro-Hungarians are contemplating a general retreat, but the mystery of the situation is the persistent silence maintained by Field Marshal von Mackensen, who, apparently, is making no effort to resume the German advance on Warsaw.

Petrograd reasons this inaction of the Germans as being due to the fear of Field Marshal von Mackensen that his left flank would be exposed while the Austrians were on the defense, but some fear is expressed by London observers that the brilliant German military commander is planning an unexpected coup.

The German attack on Souchez, where the French advances had threatened the town of Lille, may indicate the arrival on the western front of the long expected Teutonic reinforcements, but evidence still is lacking of any concerted offensive on either side along the battle front in France and Belgium.

Germany and Austria Hungary, according to dispatches to the Balkan states, are using every diplomatic resource to induce Roumania to join military forces with the central powers or at least to preserve an attitude of permanent friendly neutrality. It is reported that the Austro-Hungarian minister at Bucharest has offered the Roumanian government liberal territorial compensation for armed assistance, countering Russia's offer of Transylvania with that of Bessarabia. Her reward for friendly neutrality is said to be Bukowina as far as the river Pruth.

From Austrian sources comes a report that Russia is giving substantial proof of the possibility of Roumania accepting one of these Teutonic offers by building trenches and entanglements along her Roumanian frontier.

Bulgaria and Turkey are said to have reached a deadlock in their negotiations on account of the refusal of Sofia to do more than preserve a friendly neutrality in return for territorial compensations from Constantinople..

NOW FORTIFYING FRONTIER.

Russia Preparing for Possible Attack by Roumania.

Berlin, July 13.—(Via London 1:55 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from its correspondent at Zernowitz Bukowina, says:

The Russian government Bessarabia borders, Roumania on the east. Austria Hungary is reported to have pledged Roumania to undertake the conquest of the Bessarabia and transfer it to the Balkan state in exchange for Roumania's active support in the war.

Russia on the other hand has attempted to win the support of Roumania for the allies by promising the cession of the Hungarian territory of Transylvania, which borders Roumania on the west.

BRYAN EXPLAINS UNNECESSARY RISK

Patriotic to Avoid Possibility of Involving Country in War, He Says.

Hermosa Beach, Cal., July 13.—William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, who is spending a brief vacation here with his son, issued a statement today in explanation of what he meant by "unnecessary risk" contained in his comment in connection with the last German note. He said:

"Any traveler takes an unnecessary risk when he goes into the war zone on a belligerent ship, knowing that it is subject to attack by submarines. A traveler also takes unnecessary risks when he rides on a neutral ship carrying ammunition.

"I believe that our government would be justified in separating passengers from ammunition, but until this is done American travelers would be justified in refusing to take passage on belligerent ships or a neutral ship carrying ammunition.

"If patriotism requires a man to risk his life for his country when his country is engaged in war it would seem to be patriotic for a citizen to avoid risks that might involve his country in war."

Italian authorities say that Trieste should be pronounced "Treesta." Besides being a great port, it is famous as a center of the meerschaum pipe industry.

FATHER OF "SAFETY FIRST" PASSES AWAY

Dr. J. A. Holmes Spread Idea to All Phases of Industrial Activity.

Denver, Col., July 13.—Joseph Austin Holmes, director of the federal bureau of mines at Washington and a widely known geologist, died at his home here early today of tuberculosis. He came to Denver about four months ago in the hope of regaining his health, but grew steadily weaker.

Dr. Holmes was 55 years old and a native of South Carolina. He had been director of the bureau of mines since its creation by congress in 1910. His service of the federal government began in 1904 when he was placed in charge of the United States geological survey laboratories for testing fuels and structural materials. He is survived by a widow and four children.

Dr. Holmes was regarded by his associates in the government's service as the father of the bureau of mines which by a campaign of education and experiment has largely reduced the death toll among the underground workers. He also was accredited with making "safety first" a national movement. He took it for the slogan of the mine bureau's work and it spread to all phases of industrial activity.

An Eminent Foreigner Says:

The most typical American characteristic is willingness to try anything once.

In politics or philanthropy men depend on opinions and theory. In science and mechanics they should rely on facts.

When you make an investment in glasses—don't confuse finance with theory; and mechanics and science with chance—just as tho' the facts were not there.

In ten years we have made over 15,000 glasses. They are our reference. Inquiry will obviate the necessity of taking even one chance.

AGRICULTURAL WORK IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

The outlook for worth-while agricultural work in the schools of Allen county is very promising for the coming term, according to D. O. McComb, county superintendent.

Great progress has been made toward good agricultural practice on Indiana farms as a result of the work of the public schools in pre-vocational agriculture. The schools have done a notable work in the improvement of the dairy interests of the state. Fruit and vegetable growing have received a great deal of attention in the schools. Budding, grafting, pruning and spraying of fruit trees have been practiced extensively by pupils.

Mr. McComb is desirous of improving the agricultural work of the schools. Parents have learned to respect the work of the schools because of the profitable results obtained by following the suggestions which their boys have made.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Genesis 42:1-17.

1 Now when Jacob saw that there was corn in Egypt, Jacob said unto his sons, Why do ye look one upon another?

2 And he said, Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt: get you down thither, and buy for us from thence; that we may live, and not die.

3 And Joseph's ten brethren went down to buy corn in Egypt.

4 But Benjamin, Joseph's brother, Jacob, sent not with his brethren; for he said, Lest peradventure mischief befall him.

5 And the sons of Israel came to buy corn among those that came: for the famine was in the land of Canaan.

6 And Joseph was the governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and Joseph's brethren came, and bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth.

7 And Joseph saw his brethren, and he knew them, but made himself strange unto them, and spake roughly unto them; and he said unto them, Whence come ye? And they said, From the land of Canaan to buy food.

8 And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.

9 And Joseph remembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

10 And they said unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy food are thy servants come.

11 We are all one man's sons; we are true men, thy servants are no spies.

12 And he said unto them, Nay, but to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

13 And they said, Thy servants are twelve brethren, the sons of one man in the land of Canaan; and, behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one is not.

14 And Joseph said unto them, That is it that I spake unto you, saying, Ye are spies:

15 Hereby ye shall be proved: By the life of Pharaoh ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither.

16 Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether there be any truth in you: or else by the life of Pharaoh surely ye are spies.

17 And he put them all together into ward three days.

Entrance Fees for the Primary

It is beginning to be apparent that when we run out of other troubles we can safely turn to the new Indiana primary law, as yet untried in a practical way, as a source of perplexity and worry. Considerable dust has already been kicked up and a test in the courts proposed over the section which stipulates that the voter must have at the last previous election supported at least a majority of the candidates of the party with which he now desires to participate in the selection of candidates. It is contended in many quarters that this effectually debars the independent voter—a most necessary adjunct to the body politic—from moving for the nomination of good men irrespective of party, and that it shuts out entirely the man who at the last previous election may have voted the ticket of a party not in existence locally on the primary day.

But somebody has now raised another objection. It is to that section of the primary law which stipulates the payment of a fee by the candidate in order that his name may appear on the primary ballot. The provision is for the payment of one per cent. of the first years' salary of the position sought, on the theory that the nominees or the candidates for nominations, taking their chances on success and later reimbursement, should help the state, or the county, or the city, pay the cost of the primary. It is possible, of course, that this may be legally construed as an abridgment of the heaven-born American right to "run" for office whenever one chooses and for whatever office one may fancy. That has long been a popular diversion with a good many men in Indiana as elsewhere in the United States. We take it, however, that the danger of popular rebellion against the fee provision in the primary law is more apparent than real. The candidate has never been able to escape payment in some form or other. He has been forced to "come across" to the campaign committee which supplied cohesive organization, political strategy, systematic party efforts and at least a simulation of party enthusiasm. He accepts the assessment as a matter of course and he raises no objection. He cannot afford to jeopardize his standing in the party by quibbling over it. Nor will he, we think, care to be put before the public in the attitude of rebelling at the conditions of the race while seeking favor as an entrant in the contest through his own choice. In all probability a good deal of unnecessary worrying is being done over this particular section of the new law. It will "work" without a hitch because nobody seeking office will have the temerity to attempt to reverse the time-honored adage that those who dance may be reasonably expected to pay the fiddler.

One development of the electric lighting industry that has attracted little outside attention but which is of tremendous importance is the arrangement under which half a score or more little Northern Indiana towns are being supplied with electric light by larger neighbors some miles distant. By it many little villages, too small for the maintenance of individual power stations, are supplied with electric current from cross-country lines especially constructed for that purpose. Allen county has a number of instances of this kind, and now the village of Monroe is to be similarly supplied with lighting from Decatur. It is undoubtedly true that we are now seeing but the beginning of electrical development and of the universal use to which it will some day have attained.

Instead of following beaten paths and collecting the ordinary photographic mementoes of their marriage ceremony, an Indianapolis bride and groom will have a motion picture of their wedding ceremony clicked off by the camera man to be treasured during their future years and to be handed down to future generations. It is still necessary to "go some" to keep up with the Hoosier nuptial couple which really sets itself out to provide novelty in the matrimonial way, but the Indianapolis couple has not yet succeeded in wresting first honors from the Fort Wayne airman who selected the aeroplane elopement as the most direct route to wedded bliss.

The recently organized Men's Christian League of Fort Wayne has outlined a constructive program of wide scope and much importance to which it purposes bending its efforts. It hopes to not only assist in improving moral conditions generally, but will give its aid to the movement for hospitals, for playgrounds, for a Y. M. C. A. building and assist in every cause that means advancement for the city. Two thousand men united for work of this character will be mightily helpful to Fort Wayne.

INTERNATIONAL LAW?

(New York World.)

The sum of the matter appears to be that international law is in ruins. Great Britain disregarded it first at sea by its failure to declare and maintain a true and effective blockade of Germany, while asserting all the rights and privileges of a blockading power. Germany has used its submarines as a mighty remonstrance against stoppage of supplies. The so-called British blockade of Germany is unlawful because it does not exclude Norway and Sweden. The use of submarines is unlawful because they sink and kill without search and by their summary action expose passengers and crews to death.

In a single noteworthy fact we may find a complete explanation of this intolerable situation. The great navies of Britain and Germany refuse to fight. They appear to be afraid of each other. If the British maintained a true blockade of Germany they would be compelled to support it with all of their dreadnoughts in the Baltic as well as in the North sea and the channel. If the Germans maintained, or even attempted, a true blockade of Great Britain, their navy, now hidden in the Keil canal, would have to take the risk of battle. Caution or cowardice is subjecting the whole world to savagery and injustice.

Declining thus far a real test of naval supremacy, both of these belligerents, by irregular methods, are inflicting almost as much injury upon neutrals, as they are upon each other.

RIDING FOR A CENT A MILE.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

President Underwood, of the Erie, is a level-headed railroad man. He diagnoses public sentiment precisely when he urges a reduction of all passenger fares and an increase in freight rates to compensate for whatever losses the roads would suffer. He suggests a cent a mile as a proper passenger rate for the entire country, with reductions on even that low price for suburban traffic. American railroads do not encourage travel by the poorer people as some foreign railroads do. In Japan and India the poor may ride for one-sixth of the price paid for a first-class ticket. It is true that railroad facilities there are primitive compared to the luxuries enjoyed by travelers in the United States, but the rates are made to fit the pocketbooks of everybody. Cheap fares here would stimulate the volume of travel, whereas high fares are sure to restrict it. At the present time freight carries the chief financial burden of American railroads, but a broad-minded interstate commerce commission would add still more to that burden while taking away from demands placed upon passenger business. One of the worst principles ever put forth by that body was when it virtually ordered the railroads to increase passenger fares and keep down freight rates.

MEN'S LEAGUE HAS BIG WORK

you, I am reminded of a story told upon himself by one of our supreme justices of the United States court.

The Judge and His Dilemma.

The learned judge was spending his vacation in the rural section of one of our sister southern states. One day, as he was driving along a lonely and muddy road, a tug broke. The judge alighted, waded through the mud, inspected the broken tug and realized that he faced the serious problem of mending the tug with his very limited resources or the more serious problem of walking several miles to his intended destination.

The long sedentary habits of the judge made this latter alternative look like a buck saw and a wood pile to a professional tramp—a thing to be avoided under all circumstances and at all costs.

A very superficial test showed the judge that the tug was too stiff to tie well and would be too short if tied.

He next searched the harness for a possible string or strap that might be spared from its accustomed duties. But the harness unlike his honor's court, had no tapes—red or otherwise—that could be dispensed with without seriously impairing the efficiency of the machinery.

About the time that the judge was willing to admit that the situation was too much for him a little colored lad about fourteen years of age came in sight over the hill the judge had been trying to ascend.

The judge was relieved by the appearance of the little fellow and when he arrived at the judge's side and said in his warm, sympathetic tone, "Is yo' in trouble, boss?" the judge felt like taking the little fellow into his arms. But, realizing that in his present predicament it was business before pleasure, the judge restrained his emotional appeal and proceeded to draw on his newly acquired ebony assets.

"Do you have any cord in your pockets, son?"

A Matter of Common Sense.

After a brief exploring investigation the lad admitted that he had none. "Do you know where I could get some new harness?"

"No, I doesn't, boss."

"Does any one live near here."

"No, sir, boss. Nobody lives near this place."

"Do you know how I can mend this tug? I just must get out of here some way."

"No, boss, I doesn't spect you can mend it at all."

The judge was just turning back to the broken tug with despair in his heart when the little lad continued by way of addition to his former statement:

"But I spects I can fix it, boss."

The judge grasped at this little ray of hope like a drowning man at a lifeline. The little lad without more ado climbed over the rail fence, peeled the bark from a hickory sapling, and came back and was soon splicing the broken tug as only a colored farmer lad can. In a few moments he turned to the judge and said:

"There you is, boss."

"Well, well, well," said the judge. "How simple, how simple; now why couldn't I have thought of that?"

The little lad, proud of his achievement, turned a beaming face up to the judge and said: "Some folks has just naturally got more sense than other folks has."

An Analogous Situation.

It seems to me, gentlemen, that the situation of the judge is paralleled by this city, state and nation. We have a broken tug that has and is still preventing us from moving on toward our destination—a city, state and nation wherein every individual is surrounded by influences and opportunities that makes for his or her highest and best development, a nation wherein every youth may find his surroundings such that he may grow up with a sound body, a clear thinking mind and habits that make for efficiency, good citizenship and wholesome family life.

If there be pitfalls for our youth, if there be habits shocking our citizens, impairing their efficiency and their happiness, we have a broken tug. If there be graft and inefficiency in our government, and if justice be not administered, we have a broken tug.

Gentlemen, I fear that we have more than one broken tug, and many have despaired of ever mending them, or that we shall ever reach our destination—a nation wherein there shall be no parasites living upon others, nor pitfalls into which our boys and girls may fall to a destruction worse than physical death.

New Light Is Breaking.

But, gentlemen, let me say that I see a light breaking. It is more than a ray of hope. With due apologies to the Law Enforcement and Reform league, formed a few days ago in the brewers' quarters in Indianapolis, who assert that they are going to mend the broken tug and set us rejoicing on our way, I am compelled to say that I suspect the honesty of their motives and doubt their abilities. I believe that this association, the Christian Men's league formed by the Christian citizenship of Fort Wayne, will be the laddie with the good sense to find a way to mend the broken tug.

Gentlemen, this league is big with possibilities and it is such a simple and effective means for securing the conditions that we desire, that I am astonished that someone did not think of it long ago. I can explain it in no other way than did the colored laddie, "Some folks has just naturally got more sense than other folks has."

Watching Idle Wheels Go Round.

As a boy several years ago, my companions and I used to build water mills along the brook. In those mills we put as many wheels as possible, it gladdened our boyish hearts to see the wheels go round. It did not matter that the wheels had no purpose, and that they were only to turn in idleness. But, gentlemen we are no longer boys; we have put away childish things, we no longer build toy mills to watch the wheels go round and round. But we have tonight finished a mill that is built for serious business. There is a buzz saw attachment labeled civic committee that will be unsafe for the devil to fool with and his cohorts had best not get into its way. Its teeth are sharp and it will be belted to the dynamic force of 2,000 militant Christian workers. If some of the dens of iniquity, respectable or otherwise, that are setting pitfalls for our youths do not get sawed into tidbits by this buzz saw, it will be because they will see the error of their way and reform, or leave the city and go to Indianapolis, where they may fall into the arms of the Brewers' Law Enforcement and Reform league.

Gentlemen, all you need to do is to keep a high steam pressure in your 2,000 membership and the buzz saw will rip open some rotten holes that will do your hearts good and restore your faith that righteousness will prevail.

Will Help the Other League.

I suggest incidentally that your finance committee wait upon the brewers and take their free-will contribution. They will doubtlessly contribute liberally, as this league will take, in part at least, one of their difficult burdens off their shoulders, for if I mistake not this civic committee will be of very material assistance in helping the brewers to force their lawless retailers to obey their laws.

It may be that they will wish to stand godfather to this league, if not adopt it outright. For it is my candid opinion, gentlemen, that the youngster born here tonight will in a very short time surpass in effective law enforcement, their own child born at Indianapolis some days ago.

In fact, this child comes of a parentage that has been trained for a long time in law obedience and civic righteousness, whereas the father of the Indianapolis child—the Law Enforcement and Reform league—has never been accused of excelling in either of the manly virtues of law obedience or law enforcement, and I fear that the Indianapolis youngster will prove weak and inefficient if it does not die in its early infancy. For while the liquor "daddies" may set at naught man-made law, they cannot set at naught the divine law, "that the iniquities of the fathers shall be visited upon the children."

Gentlemen, I think you had better prepare for the infant's death. Then the brewers will in their bereavement turn to the Men's Christian league to assume the duties for which they had hoped to rear their Indianapolis child.

Rap at Business and Fraternal Clubs.

I know you, gentlemen, will never do it, unless the W. C. T. U. beats you to it. Gentlemen, I cannot conceive how an organization of 2,000 Christian workers in Fort Wayne can exist for many moons and not be able to convince our commercial club that they are not so poor that they cannot support their club without setting an example to our young men of flagrant violation of our laws. We believe that this Men's Christian league will be able to inform our citizens that there has been a little error in their zoological information; that the wild animals kept in captivity within our midst—the Moose, Buffalo, Elk, Eagles and allied fowls—do not prosper when they are made to live on booze. Gentlemen, any club of men that is so poor that it cannot live without unfair competition with our saloons has no vital reasons for existing. Whenever a club does a real service for its members and for the community it will prosper without being allied with the liquor traffic. I hope you will help eliminate all such poverty stricken clubs, and you will doubtlessly eliminate all legalized saloons as well.

There are places in the city that are made meeting places for our prostitutes where they may entice our young men and I understand that at least one such place furnishes jitney busses to our parks or adjoining woods.

Gentlemen, if our young men do not care for the rights of the unborn babes, it is time that the Christian citizenship of this city arise in its might, and wipe out places that cater to such prostitution, and I believe you will.

Power for Good Citizenship.

But while I desire to see this association be a power for law enforcement, I shall be sorry to see it exhaust all its energies on the violators of law. This association should be a power for good government and for the encouragement of good citizenship. I trust that it may arouse our citizens to an adequate conception of their civic duties. I trust that it may from this hour be impossible for our officers to be picked by a few in secret councils with the understanding that our government is to be administered for their interests.

I have been informed that at our last legislative primary one of the candidates that was asking for a place on the democratic ticket was approached by the liquor interests and asked to pledge himself, that if nominated and elected he would not be a party to any restrictive legislation against the liquor traffic. He refused their request and was not nominated. I am not saying this to blame the liquor interests but to help arouse our good citizens so that they will demand to know how every candidate asking for their suffrage, stands upon vital questions affecting the general welfare.

It is time, gentlemen, that the last mother's son of you get into active politics and make a fight for wholesome conditions in political affairs. I am ashamed to say that in most towns and cities a few saloon men and their political henchmen influence politics more than thousands of our Christian citizens.

See That Candidates Are Right.

I am not asking you men to vote against your party candidate, but I do ask that you see to it that nothing but clean and trustworthy men get on your tickets. Any Christian voter who refuses to go to the primaries and who fails to inform himself as to the affiliations past and present of the men asking for his vote, is not a good citizen and is not doing his full Christian duty.

But, gentlemen, the civic work is by no means the only work to be done by this association. We are going after the men of this city. We are going to offer them Christian comradeship and Christian help. We are going to ask them to come with us and enjoy the countless joys of an active Christian service.

Men are hungering for comradeship and will bless you for bringing it to them.

This body of men can, and I believe it will, be a great blessing to this city, it can and I believe it will, give added efficiency to our churches.

Let us all therefore go into our churches and into our civic life with a glad hand for all and a determination that Fort Wayne shall be a better place in which to live and a better place in which to rear our boys and girls. Let us act with good judgment, with charity toward the law-breaker, but not charity toward his lawlessness, and I believe that Fort Wayne will rise and call this association blessed.

BEEN A LAYIN' FER THAT BASS.

Judge Haymond Lands Eight-Pounder at Webster Lake.

Warsaw, Ind., July 13.—When Judge Edgar Haymond landed an eight-and-one-quarter-pound bass at Yellow Banks, Webster Lake, he probably established a record which other Isaac Waltons of northern Indiana will never equal and to all knowledge made the largest bass catch in the history of the county. For years Judge Haymond has angled for a certain bass which inhabited the waters directly in front of his cottage. Daily throughout the summer the judge would spend some time bait casting for the big fish which on several occasions he almost succeeded in landing, only to see the finny monster elude him often when almost within his landing net. Angling for that big bass became a hobby with the judge and chafing under the jests of his doubting companions he became more and more determined to land it.

The veteran angler, now in his 87th year, is spending the summer at his cottage and among his old familiar haunts of Webster lake.

ROANOKE TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

PLAN TRANS-COUNTY ROAD.

Kendallville, Ind., July 13.—At an informal meeting of some of the representative farmers of Wayne, Orange and Elkhart townships, held in the office of William Swogger Saturday evening, a strong sentiment was developed in favor of the construction of an improved highway from Kendallville to Ligonier. Steps will be taken to ascertain the sentiment of the farmers of the several townships through which the proposed road will pass and the movement will be launched without delay.

COMES BACK TO WHITLEY.

Columbia City, Ind., June 13.—Bert Ihrig and wife, of San Pedro, California, have arrived here to spend a month in this county with the R. H. Maring and the J. M. Kaufman families and other relatives. Mr. Ihirg left this city twenty-eight years ago and this is his first trip home during that time. When he left this county he struck out for California and has made his home there through the entire twenty-eight years. He engaged in the laundry business with his brother and they have been quite successful but disposed of the business before returning home. He and his wife will remain here for a month. He expects to again engage in business in California, but has not fully decided what line he will take up.

ANDREWS VETERAN DEAD.

Andrews, Ind., July 13.—Robert Jones, a veteran of the civil war and a well known resident of this place, is dead at the age of 73 years, after an illness of several years. His condition had been acute for about two weeks. He was a native of Ross county, O. Mr. Jones enlisted at the beginning of the civil war and served until peace was established. On November 4, 1861, he joined Company E, 47th Indiana, under Captain Jacob Wintrode, served two years and re-enlisted under Captain Benjamin Payton.

HUNTINGTON NATIVE SON DIES.

Huntington, Ind., July 13.—Abraham Foust, aged 65 years, and a native of Huntington county, will be buried this afternoon from the German Reformed church, of which he was a member, and interment will be made in the church cemetery. Rev. L. E. Smith, pastor of the First Christian church here, will officiate. Mr. Foust died at the M. E. Memorial home, in Warren, where he had been staying since October, 1911. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Foust, pioneers of the county, and spent practically all of his life on the farm where he was born.

WAS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Montpelier, Ind., July 13.—Word has been received here that Art Thompson, of Okmulgee, Okla., formerly of Montpelier and Balbec, was accidentally shot and is now suffering from serious injuries in the Baptist hospital at Okmulgee. Mr. Thompson was bending over to work at his automobile when a man who was behind him shooting at birds accidentally discharged his gun sending a bullet into the lower part of Mr. Thompson's body. The intestines were penetrated in three places. He was formerly employed in the oil fields here and is a brother of J. H. Thompson.

INSANE WOMAN LOCKED UP.

Warsaw, Ind., July 13.—Alda Pensinger, an insane person from Syracuse, was brought to this city Monday afternoon by Sheriff Jacob Huffer and taken to the county infirmary, where she will be held until she can be accepted at Longcliff. Miss Pensinger was adjudged insane at an inquest held Sunday at Syracuse. Only during the past few days the patient has become violent and has threatened immediate members of her family, by flourishing a large butcher knife and threatening to cut them to pieces. She has been accustomed to wandering away from her home late at night and going down town and sitting on the curb and laughs incessantly.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SPILLED.

Bluffton, Ind., July 13.—Deputy Sheriff George Albright took a header from a motorcycle while returning to this city from the vicinity of Uniondale, and he sustained some severe but not dangerous injuries, the worst of which was an ugly gash in his left palm. The accident occurred near the Larson school house, where Mr. Albright discovered too late, in turning a corner, that the brake was broken and would not take hold. Luckily he had shut off enough that the speed was materially reduced to take a corner, but the machine was going too fast to complete the turn and the machine skidded.

FINDS HUSBAND DEAD IN YARD.

Auburn, Ind., July 13.—Samuel Lige, aged 65 years and a lifelong resident of DeKalb county, was found dead in the barnyard at his home in Jackson township, Monday, by his wife, who had gone to call him to the table, when he did not appear at the accustomed time. He was lying face downward and had been dead about fifteen minutes it is thought. Death was probably due to apoplexy. His second wife and two daughters and three sons survive him. He was born and reared and spent his life on the farm where he died.

MEMBERS OF VISITING BOARD.

Van Wert, O., July 13.—Probate Judge John H. Koch has announced the appointment of Lee R. Bonnewitz and Mrs. L. P. Jackson, both of this city, as members of the county board of visitors for a term of three years. Mr. Bonnewitz succeeds Captain D. P. Dunathan and Mrs. Jackson succeeds Mrs. Orville Jettinghoff.

WARSAW PLANS REVIVAL.

Warsaw, Ind., July 13.—A meeting of the Ministerial association and on a vote, the Warsaw pastors decided to have a union evangelistic campaign in the city as soon in the fall as the proper man can be secured. Messrs. Neal, Eakins and Owen were appointed a committee to look after the man and arrange for the place of holding the revival. It is hoped to have the campaign begin in October, if it can be arranged; if not as soon as that, the meetings will be held early in the new year.

DEAD CONVICT BURIED.

Warren, Ind., July 13.—The remains of Orville Allison, aged 27, were brought here from Michigan City, where he died and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stanley, from which place funeral services were held. One sister, Edna Allison, who lives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, survive. Death was due to tuberculosis.

WARSAW'S TWILIGHT SLEEP BABY.

Warsaw, Ind., July 13.—Warsaw has a "Twilight Sleep" baby. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Neher under the twilight sleep conditions in the Mary Thompson hospital in Chicago. Both the child and mother are getting along fine and will return to the city in a few days.

It is believed that this is the first child in the county to be born under these conditions.

BURNS CAUSE CHILD'S DEATH.

Bluffton, Ind., July 13.—After suffering for many hours from burns, Naldie, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nash, of this place, was relieved by death. He was playing with some matches when he accidentally set his clothing on fire, and about one-third of his body was burned to a solid blister. The child's father had both hands and arms burned to the elbows, in tearing the burned clothing from the child.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

SCREEN'S PRIZE BEAUTY.

Lincoln Highway Pictures.

The initial showing of the pictures taken during the recent Lincoln highway celebration in this city will take place at the Jefferson today and tomorrow, in addition to the regular program. These interesting views were filmed under the direction of the officials in charge of the celebration and take in every phase of the celebration. Vice President Marshal is shown in a number of different poses, a panoramic picture was taken of the machines in the line of march, while all the decorated automobiles received attention, the prize winning cars being given special notice.

AT THE LYRIC.

CHARLES CHAPLIN AT LYRIC.

King of Comedians Scoring Remarkable Hit in Latest Essanay Release.

Charles Chaplin, of whom they say that a thousand people applaud his screen antics somewhere on earth during every minute of the twenty-four hours, makes his latest and without a question of doubt his most humorous appearance at the Lyric today in the hilariously funny Essanay comedy, "A Woman." What the redoubtable Charles has done before in film comedies does not matter when we consider the excruciating manner in which he has grasped and made the most of the humorous possibilities in this picture. Chaplin is absolutely irresistible and during those scenes in the play during which he appears sans mustache, cane, derby and other Chaplin-esque habiliments and impersonates a flirtatious maid of eighteen winters, the mirth of the audience knows no bounds.

As a special feature with the Chaplin comedy, the Lyric will show the first four installments of "The Diamond From the Sky," the famous $800,000 serial-drama starring Irving Cummings, Lottie Pickford, William Russell and Eugenia Forde.

AT THE TEMPLE.

CRACK LIST OF PLAYERS.

Fort Wayne to Enjoy Some of the Best by Paycen Players.

Fort Wayne's lovers of the legitimate comedy and drama, amusement seekers who want to see and hear their favorites in the flesh rather than have them ground out at so much a grind, are assured of some rare pleasure with the Paycen Stock players, judging from the superb list of attractions which E. P. Churchill has arranged for his company. The production now in preparation includes in the order given "The Deep Purple," "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Blindness of Virtue," "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford," Alias Jimmy Valentine," "The Man Who Stood Still," "What Happened to Mary," "The Spendthrift," "Broadway Jones" and "Tess of the Storm Country." These plays will all be staged with the careful and intelligent attention to detail that has marked all the Paycen productions during the company's current engagement.

The players this week are presenting "Pals," the great dramatic story of the Damon and Pythias type of friendship between two men being ruptured by one of them making love to the wife of the other.

MANY GOING BACK TO ITALY.

Several Thousand Reservists Leave Kanawha Coal Country.

Charlestown, W. Va., July 13.—Mine managers here estimate that several thousand Italian reservists have left the Kanawha coal country during the past month to join their regiments in Italy. Many of them are trained mechanics, including electricians and linemen. They usually leave in squads of a dozen or more, coming first to Charleston from the mining towns in this region.

Four or five Fort Wayne plumbers have gone to Chicago to attend the annual plumbers' convention being held in that city this week.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

WE are daily receiving congratulations from all classes of readers for our generous offer in distributing, practically free, the wonderful WORLD FAMOUS EMBROIDERY OUTFIT, containing in all more than 450 of the very latest Embroidery Patterns, including the New Hardwood Hoop, Bodkin, Stiletto, a prize package of highest grade needles (assorted sizes) and Booklet of Instructions.

All Classes Need It

The woman of means needs it, because she enjoys the experience of creating something beautiful or useful with her own hands, and because nothing can take the place of dainty hand embroidered fabrics.

The woman of lesser means prizes it because it is the means of supplying things better for herself and children to wear at a trifling expense. The woman of moderate income can, by the use of this Outfit, wear just as pretty things as her more fortunate sister.

Transfers Several Times

ALL old-fashioned methods of tranferring embroidery patterns by use of water, benzine and injurious fluids are crude and out-of-date and often spoil expensive materials. This method is safe dry, quick, clean.

AS TO PARK CONCERTS.

Mr. Ernest Schelling, the distinguished American pianist and member of Park music committee of the Music League of America, has the following to say in last month's Musical Courier:

"A country's music depends on a country's taste. If the people through listening to good music learn to appreciate it, they will call forth compositions worthy to be ranked with those of the great foreign schools.

"But they will never appreciate good music unless they hear it. Park concerts for that reason mean a great deal more than the mere amusement for a few hours of the people who have nothing else to do. People who go to park concerts go to listen to the music, as a rule they are earnest and attentive and they carry a sincere impression of what they have heard."

EDISON WILL HEAD NEW ADVISORY BOARD

American Inventors to Aid in American Naval Development.

West Orange, N. J., July 13.—Thomas A. Edison has accepted an invitation from Secretary Daniels to head an advisory board of civilian inventors for a bureau of invention and development to be created in the navy department. His acceptance will go forward at once to Washington, where the new plans await word from the man "who can turn dreams into realities."

Mr. Daniels' idea of utilizing the inventive genius of Americans in and out of the military and naval service to meet conditions of warfare shown in the conflict on land and sea in Europe is outlined in a letter written last Wednesday asking Mr. Edison whether, as a patriotic service to his country he would undertake the task of advising the proposed bureau. The plan is to have several men prominent in special lines of inventive research associated in the work.

Among the great problems to be laid before the investigators, the secretary mentioned submarine warfare, adding that he felt sure that with Mr. Edison's wonderful brain to head them the officers of the navy "would be able to meet this new danger with new devices that will assure peace to our country by their effectiveness."

WILL GO ON AUCTION BLOCK.

The total debt is about $900,000 and the plan holds a promise for a settlement in full within four or five years. The old Winona management recently made an invoice of the property which totaled $775,000 and, it was stated, if successful in securing the property at the sale will settle with the creditors on that basis.

CIRCUS AERIALISTS DEMAND INSURANCE

Ringling Performers Bring Suit to Secure Accident Policy.

The Klarkonian family, one of a score of mid-air troupes now appearing with Ringling Brothers' circus, have brought suit in an effort to compel a well known New York insurance company to insure them against accident or loss of life.

The insurance company has refused to accept the risk on the ground that it is too great a hazard. If the Klarkonians will agree to use a net under their act and content themselves with performing the usual feats seen in circus tents, a policy will be written. The company makes positive objection to the triple, twisting somersaults performed by these artists. In the meantime the Klarkonians continue to perform twice daily and their attorneys have instituted suit to compel insurance on the ground that the New York concern has written policies for aerialists appearing with other shows.

This season's program is the most varied the Ringling Brothers have ever devised. It opens with the superb spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba with a cast of 1,250 people, a ballet of 300 dancing girls and a train load of accessories. The arenic display follows the spectacle. It includes the famous Lloyd family in an act depicting the horsemanship of all nations; five herds of trained elephants with the nursery troupe of baby Indo-pachyderms; fifty clowns; three groups of snow-white horses and dogs in poses picturing the masterpieces of famous sculptors and painters; the five highest perch acts in the world in which men and women perform at the top of fifty-foot poles no larger than bamboo; a great company of equestrians led by Charles Augustus Clark, the world's greatest bareback rider; the McCrees and their wonderful canine equestrians; more than twenty troupes of trained wild and domestic animals; the Mijares family, who perform somersaults on slack wires, and many other features all new to America. Ringling Brothers' circus will exhibit here Saturday, July 17.

Builders of the "Big Ditch"

There has just been issued by the Historical Publishing Company of Washington, D. C., a magnificent illustrated history of the construction and builders of the Panama Canal. The editor of this great history is Mr. Ira E. Bennett, with associate editors, John Hays Hammond, celebrated mining engineer; Capt. Philip Andrews, U. S. N.; Rupert Blue, Surg. Gen. U. S. Public Health Service; J. Hampton Moore, Pres. Atlantic Deeper Waterways Ass'n; Patrick J. Lennox, B. A., and William J. Showalter.

One of the most interesting portions of the book is that dealing with the feeding of the immense army of laborers. A few paragraphs concerning one of the foods chosen and supplied by the Commissary Department, are quoted (beginning page 428) as follows:

"Visitors to the canal who were privileged to get a glimpse of the routine inner life will recall a familiar picture of workmen going to their places of labor carrying round yellow tins.

"Often, as they went, they munched a food poured from the tin into the hand. This food, which played no inconsiderable part in 'building' the canal, was the well-known article of diet, 'GRAPE-NUTS.'

"The mention of Grape-Nuts in this connection is peculiarly pertinent. Not merely because Grape-Nuts is a food—for of course proper food was an integral part of the big enterprise—but because it is a cereal food which successfully withstood the effects of a tropical climate. This characteristic of Grape-Nuts was pretty well known and constituted a cogent reason for its selection for use in the Canal Zone.

"This food is so thoroughly baked that it keeps almost indefinitely in any climate, as has been demonstrated again and again.

"One finds Grape-Nuts on transoceanic steamships, in the islands of the seas, in Alaska, South America, Japan, along the China coast, in Manila, Australia, South Africa, and on highways of travel and the byways of the jungle—in short, wherever minimum of bulk and maximum of nourishment are requisite in food which has to be transported long distances, and often under extreme difficulties.

"The very enviable reputation which Grape-Nuts has attained in these respects caused it to be chosen as one of the foods for the Canal Zone."

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

—scientifically made of prime wheat and malted barley, contains the entire goodness of the grain, including those priceless mineral elements so essential for active bodies and keen brains, but which are lacking in white flour products and the usual dietary.

There's a reason why Grape-Nuts food was chosen by the Canal Commissariat. There's a reason why Grape-Nuts is a favorite food of hustling people everywhere.

CUBS OUTHIT ERIE BUT DROP ANOTHER

Had Seven Clean Hits to Erie's Three But Lost 2 and 1.

Scoring a two and one victory on three meagre hits against our seven bingles, Erie got right back of the little god of luck yesterday and kicked our very best Cubs into the second division, usurping fourth place herself. Red Hart pitched and he threw an excellent game, but with the jinx sitting tight in the box his efforts were wasted.

After two runless innings the Erie aggregation got away with one in the third. Brubaker our new shortstop, booted Aldredge's hard one and the latter was safe on first, Nee singled to short and Holderman threw Nee out at second when Stanley forced him to that sack. Aidredge took third on the play and Gygli singled to center, the only clean hit the Erieites put up.

Then all was peaceful till the sixth, several attempts of the Cubs that looked good for a moment falling flat. Then Beyers doubled to left, a hit that was calculated to send a faster runner twice around, and after Hart went up and out Smyth slapped one to center and Beyers rambled across the plate with the tying run.

In the eighth it was Harry Martin who started things that meant the defeat of the Cubs. He sent a nice one out to right and although Bratchi nearly broke his neck to get it he couldn't quite make it. Hart hit Aldredge and the stuff was off. Nee sacrificed and Stanley flew up and out to center, Martin beating the ball to the plate. Score:

INTRODUCING MR. RED HART.

"Red" Hart is as classy a little pitcher as has showed up here in some time, and although he lost yesterday's game it certainly was a star performance. The "breaks of the game," as baseball men call it, worked against him.

TOUGH ON ONE MR. HAGGERTY

Central league umpires received instructions from President Heilbroner today to eliminate the practice of pitchers walking off the slab between deliveries under pretense of getting the catcher's signals. Starting today pitchers will be expected to get the signals from the slab so that patrons will not be compelled to sit and watch a pitcher stroll half way over to first or third base and back between pitches. Umpires will call a ball whenever in his opinion a pitcher is delaying the game unnecessarily. Umpires have also been instructed to call strikes on batters when they are not ready to take their positions at the plate, and to cut out the preliminary practice between innings in case it delays the game.

Here's How Big Cobb Would Have to Be to Tie Golf Ball Swat

Ty Cobb, some ball player, can hit a baseball 400 feet.

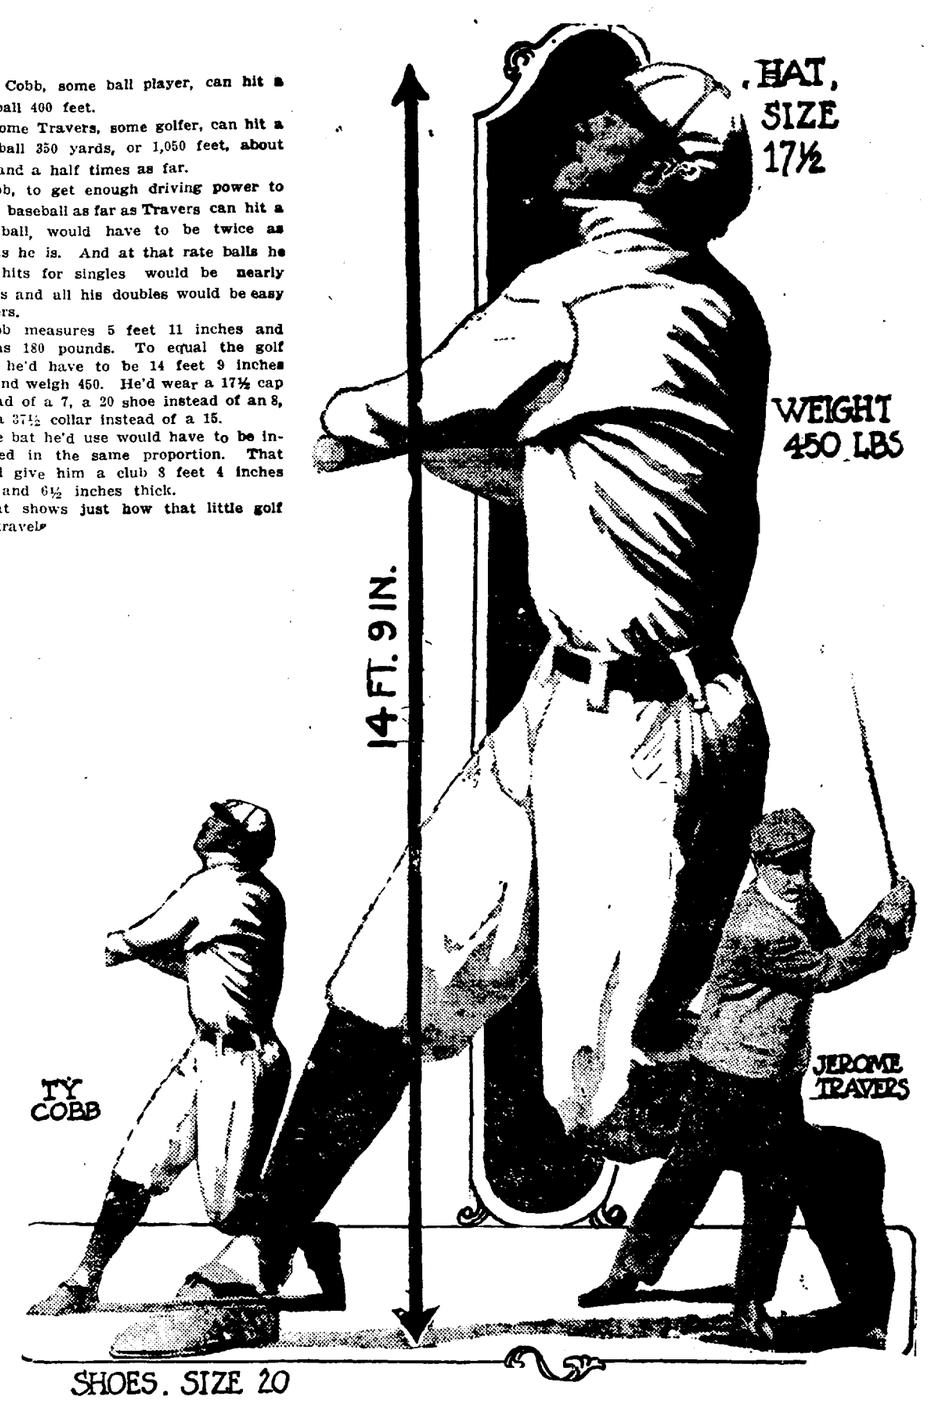
Jerome Travers, some golfer, can hit a golf ball 350 yards, or 1,050 feet, about two and a half times as far.

Cobb, to get enough driving power to hit a baseball as far as Travers can hit a golf ball, would have to be twice as big as he is. And at that rate balls he now hits for singles would be nearly triples and all his doubles would be easy homers.

Cobb measures 5 feet 11 inches and weighs 180 pounds. To equal the golf swat he'd have to be 14 feet 9 inches tall and weigh 450. He'd wear a 17½ cap instead of a 7, a 20 shoe instead of an 8, and a 37½ collar instead of a 15.

The bat he'd use would have to be increased in the same proportion. That would give him a club 8 feet 4 inches long and 6½ inches thick.

That shows just how that little golf ball travels.



THE PHOTOS SHOW HOW BIG TY COBB AND JERRY TRAVERS ARE, COMPARED TO THE SIZE COBB WOULD HAVE TO ATTAIN TO MAKE A BASEBALL CLOUT EQUAL A GOLF BALL DRIVE.

TERRIERS BEAT DAYTON VETS

Terre Haute, Ind., July 13.—Terre Haute climbed Dayton to the tune of 7 and 1 yesterday in the shortest game of the season. It required one hour and twenty-five minutes to turn the trick. Score: R.H.E.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 13—Although only slightly outhit, Grand Rapids came out the loser in a 17 and 4 affair yesterday. Sheering made two homers and McAuley, Siglin and Keene each got one. Seven doubles and four stolen bases occupied some of the time, and the total hits were thirty-three, Youngstown getting eighteen.

THE MODESTY OF SOME PEOPLE IS ASTOUNDING.

(Evansville Journal-News).

Self praise is not always considered in good taste, but Evansville has a right to feel rather chesty in regard to the position it plays in the Central league. Among the managers and ball players of all the seven cities in the league Evansville is known as the banner ball town of the circuit. Not only does the local park surpass anything in the circuit or the country, but the fans here are given credit for being the most loyal.

Jack Compton, the Dayton manager, remarked Friday that Evansville was making a better showing in attendance and in enthusiasm than any other city in the circuit, regardless of the fact that Grand Rapids and Dayton have it on Evansville by several thousand in population. Compton said all the ball players were glad to get to Evansville for they knew they would always find fans.

The Central league, like all other minor organizations, has had its troubles this season, but the Central has stood the storm far better than the majority. Fans overlook the fact that ball clubs must be economical this year, the same as men in business. Business men are not running any larger accounts than necessary and have been cutting expenses. Ball clubs must be run on a similar order and after everything is considered the fans will have to admit that for the most part they have seen good baseball in the Central league.

DEL GAINOR GETS BETTER EVERY DAY.

Is Making Big Hit In His Work With the Sox This Y

Del Gainor, late of Fort Wayne and the Detroit Tigers, is making a truly remarkable player with the Sox. He has improved greatly since he left Detroit, where he was constantly getting into the hospital with one injury or another, and now is considered one of the most valuable men in the big show. He plays first and outfield universally well, and has become a favorite of the first water among the fans.

M'GRAW SAYS PRESENT DAY BATTERS PULL.

"The biggest trouble with present day batters is they pull away from the plate instead of wading into the ball," says Jawn McGraw, Giant foreman.

"For a long time I refused to pay attention to folks who said ball players don't hit as well as the old-timers, but now I'm convinced. The youngsters coming up just naturally don't hit, that's all. You can't get them to step into the ball. I haven't played for a long time, but I can get in there any day and hit better than some of the chaps around the circuit."

$425,000 HUNG UP IN GRAND CIRCUIT PURSE.

Harry K. Devereaux, president of the Grand circuit, has announced purses this season will total $425,000, and predicts a big year for harness horse racing.

Circuit races will open in Cleveland, O., July 19. Meets will follow at Detroit, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Montreal, Can., New York, Hartford, Syracuse, Columbus and Lexington.

Devereaux says that in addition to the "regulars," many owners who formerly devoted their attention to the half mile tracks, have entered horses.

TENNIS CHAMP FACES STARS OF THE COAST.

R. Norris Williams, the Boston tennis champion, will meet some of the best on the courts in the Panama-Pacific exposition matches, and some of the many stars developed on the coast are expected to make him step a pretty lively clip. Dean Mathey, G. M. Church and W. M. Washburn went with Williams to tackle the coast cracks.

John Craig, stamp clerk in the postoffice, who has been off duty for several days on account of illness, has returned to work.

Members of Camp No. 4167, Modern Woodmen of America, will go to Tocsin next month to give the work to a large class of candidates.

A TOUCH O' SUN, A TOUCH O' SUN, MAYBE

Torrid Wave Followed by a Rush of Wives to the Divorce Courts.

Nellie Lindsey, in her complaint for divorce from Harry Lindsey, relates to the superior court that on July 11, without cause, he threatened to kill her with an ax he carried and that when she fled to a bedroom and sought refuge behind a locked door, he battered down the door with his ax and that she believes that but for interference he would have slain her. They were married in April, 1907, and separated the last time immediately following the alleged episode with the ax. She says he has always been cruel in his treatment of her, choking, beating and striking her and that a year and a half ago his conduct became such as compelled her to leave him. She was away from him a year, but says she returned to him on his promise of decent treatment, only to find him within two weeks falling into his old habits of brutality and renewing his false accusations that she was not true to her marriage vows. She asks $1,000 alimony, the custody of two children and has procured an order restraining him from molesting her or drawing his wages from William Pape, by whom he is employed as a painter and paperhanger.

Right After Her Husband.

Theresa Crawl, who haled her husband, Albert Crawl, into police court Monday morning and caused him to be fined for assault and battery on her the Fourth of July, has prepared another treat for him by filing a suit for divorce in the superior court. She says they were married in April, 1911, and separated the 10th of this month. She alleges besides the assault of July 4 that he has frequently chocked and beat her since their marriage, several times knocking her down. She says he has a violent temper and is vicious and dangerous. She asks $500 alimony, the custody of an infant child and $25 a month for its support. She has procured an order to prevent him from molesting her and the Dudlow Manufacturing company from paying him his wages during pendency of the suit.

Also Was Beaten and Choked.

Edith M. Smethers complains in the superior court of Thomas J. Smethers and repeats the story of brutal violence, charging that her husband beat and choked her and threatened her with bodily harm. She says further that he called her vile and abusive names, treated her with studied indifference and inattention and in order to humiliate her taunted here in the presence of others. They were married in January, 1909, and separated the 10th inst. She asks $1,500 alimony and a decree.

The superior court has given judgment for $455 to the plaintiff in the suit of J. G. Lauer vs. George Dager, et al.

Another Luce Suit With Receiver.

The superior court has appointed Attorney Frank M. Hogan receiver for the estate of John Luce, jr., who is a defaulter on his bond to the city court for appearance on a charge of entering a house to commit a felony. He is one of the men who attempted a hold-up at the home of Tom Covington, south of the city, a few weeks ago. The receiver was appointed on complaint of Emmet E. Wright, who says that he has an overdue note for $140.80 against Luce, the defendant, who is alleged to be insolvent. He alleges that Luce's mother has sued her son to set aside a deed to real estate and that Luce will make no defense and that judgment will be taken by default, thus defrauding him.

Annoys Her Threatening Suicide.

Alleging among numerous other things that since their marriage the 15th of last February her husband has constantly annoyed her by threatening to commit suicide, Olive Fought has begun action in the superior court for divorce from Frank Fought. She asks $1,000 alimony. It is alleged in the complaint that he hasn't bought her a thing since they were married, compelled her to live with his parents who were always complaining of her, wouldn't provide her with a home and has failed and refused to work. She says he followed her to her various boarding houses and annoyed boarders and proprietors, compelling her to frequently change locations. They separated three weeks ago.

Notes of the Courts.

The superior court has issued an injunction, prayed for by Addison Herrick, to restrain one Ostermeyer, first name unknown, and Jennie Braybrook from interfering with the plaintiff in the harvesting of a crop of wheat he has on land owned by Jennie Braybrook. It is alleged he leased the land in 1913 and last September put out his crop. In March the land was rented by Jennie Braybrook to Ostermeyer, who refuses to let the plaintiff harvest his crop.

Barney Hessert has brought suit in the superior court against Henry C. Kanning and Henry Hachmeier to recover $650 on a note.

The divorce suit of Katherine Krock vs. George Krock has been dismissed from the superior court.

The suits of the People's Collateral Loan company vs. Newton Relue, Walter Relue and Frank Relue have been set for trial September 1 in the superior court.

Judge Yaple, in the superior court, has granted a divorce to Ezra Orebaugh from John A. Orebaugh and restored her maiden name of Hall, but has forbidden her to remarry for two years.

ond floor, occupied by the Jefferson Shoestore, and the stock of shoes was badly damaged by fire, smoke and water. Water seeped through the walls into the showcases of the Wolf & Dessauer company in the Calhoun street Jefferson theater entrance, and had it not been for the quick removal of the delicate apparel in the cases that company's loss would have been greater.

As soon as the fire was under control Chief Henry Hilbrecht ordered the mop and broom brigade into the building, and a great deal of water was kept from seeping through by sweeping.

Chief Henry Hilbrecht took direct charge of the fight, and he immediately began an investigation of the cause. The fire appeared to have been burning in two places about ten feet apart, one in the rear of the big refrigerator and the other in front of it.

Employes stated that the motor on an ice machine was kept running day and night, and this may have caused the blaze. Crossed wires could not have done it, as the only wires in the vicinity were telephone connections.

All Well at Ten Thirty.

There was no fire at ten thirty o'clock last night according to Manager P. T. Prior, of the meat market.

"I was in here at ten thirty last night," he said, "and everything seemed all right. I didn't go all the way to the back, but I had some things that I wanted to leave on the counter, so I remained only a moment. There was no sign of fire or smoke then."

The greatest loss is to the building itself, the blaze having damaged it to the extent of several thousand dollars. The rear of the meat market room was literally burned out, and the blaze found its way up the walls, through the ceiling to the shoe store and burned a big hole in the rear roof. The fire coming through the roof licked into the second story windows and burned out the frames.

The National Market company places its loss at two thousand dollars, a thousand in meats, five hundred in the refrigerator and the remainder in machinery and fixtures. The Jefferson Shoe company's loss is one thousand dollars, and Wolf & Dessauer's suffered practically no loss.

A. L. Randall and Austin Stultz recently took a 99 year lease on the building owned by William Goodfellow, and converted it into two rooms. The work of remodeling is not yet completed.

Those present were Ruth Hoetzer, Emma and Velma Salomon, Alma Rose, Lillian, Gertrude and Mabel Kroemer, Luella Harmeyer, Karl Harmeyer, Elmer Bashelier, Henry and Walter Harmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. Christian Thiele, Mr. and Mrs. Louise Harmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bashelier, Mrs. Caroline Harmeyer, Arthur and Charlotte Bashelier.

WATCHMAN IS PLACED AT HOLT'S GRAVE IN DALLAS.

Dallas, Texas, July 13.—A watchman, it was learned today, has been placed here at the grave of Frank Holt or Erich Muenter, who shot J. P. Morgan. attacks broke down under our fire with heavy losses in front of our lines.

"The situation in the eastern and southeastern theaters of the war remains unchanged."

Harvesting has begun in the western and middle sections of Germany. Reports from Cologne indicate that the crops of rye, oats, wheat and barley will be especially large. Sugar beets are said to be richer in sugar than usual and it is expected that the fruit harvest will be satisfactory.

AIRSHIPS DEFY THE GALE.

French Air Squadron Launches Attack on German Rail Station.

Paris, July 13.—The following official communication was issued today:

"In front of our positions at the Labyrinth, a German attack was attempted last night under the protection of a violent curtain of fire. The assailants were decimated and completely thrown back upon their lines.

"There was a combat with hand grenades and cannonading in the forest of Apremont in the region of Renieville, and in the forest of Le Pretre.

"In the Vosges an attempted attack by the Germans directed at a bridgehead occupied by us on the east bank of the Fecht river at Sondernach was repulsed.

"An aerial squadron of 35 aeroplanes ascended this morning in spite of a wind blowing 40 miles an hour, bombarded the railroad station strategically established by the Germans at Vigneulles-les-Hattonchatel. This station served the region of the Calonne trenches and that of the forest of Apremont. Very important stores of every kind, and particularly ammunition were concentrated there. Our aviators dropped upon these objectives 171 bombs of 90 kilograms each. The bombardment started several fires. All our machines returned although they had been violently cannonaded."

NEARLY THREE BILLIONS.

Subscriptions to British War Loan Reach Staggering Total.

London, July 13.—The total subscription to the war loan amounted to close to $3,000,000,000, according to the statement made by Reginald McKenna, the chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons today. The total number of subscribers through the Bank of England was 550,000, whose contributions aggregated $2,850,000,000. The subscriptions through the postoffice have not yet closed, but up to date 547,000 persons have subscribed $75,000,000 through this channel. No figures are available as to the number of small vouchers taken out.

There are signs of renewed activity by the Teutonic forces along the eastern fighting front. Petrograd officially reports lively engagements along the east Prussian front in the Bobr and Narew regions and further to the southwest between the Pissa and Rozoga rivers. There also has been fighting in the Przasnysz region along the line north of Warsaw.

South of Warsaw only sporadic actions have occurred, but from eastern Galicia, where quiet has prevailed for some time, Teutonic attacks along the Zlota Lipa and the Dniester are reported. The upper Bug river near Busk has also been the scene of renewed fighting. Coincidental with this news comes the report that Field Marshal Mackensen's army has been strongly reinforced and that it soon will resume active operations.

Resumption of heavy assaults by the Germans in the Woevre region in France is interpreted by military observers to mean that the failure of recent attempts to break through to Verdun by way of the Argonne is being followed by a similar effort on this new direction through Mytilene and Athens. Paris has a report that as a result of another battle on the Gallipoli peninsula the forces of the entente allies have advanced 200 yards.

According to an Athens dispatch to a London newspaper the kings of Greece, Rumania and Bulgaria are soon to meet in conference at Athens. The attitude of Rumania toward the two groups of belligerents is again widely under discussion. According to statements made by correspondents on the side of the entente allies she has been given a month to accept or reject Austria's offer of territorial compensation for active military assistance or friendly neutrality.

MR. DANIELS MUCH PLEASED

Mr. Daniels, who appealed to Mr. Edison to undertake the task on patriotic grounds, went ahead today with the perfection of his new plans. Details of the proposed organization, however, will not be completed until the secretary has had an opportunity to confer with Mr. Edison, which he hopes to do very soon.

Others Under Consideration.

It is planned to have men prominent in special lines of inventive and research work associated with the bureau, several names already being under consideration.

One of the big problems to be laid before the new bureau will be that of improving the navy's submarines and areoplanes, the imperative need of which is recognized. Referring in his letter to Mr. Edison to submarine warfare, Secretary Daniels said that he felt sure that with Mr. Edison's wonderful brain to help them, the officers of the navy would be able "to meet this new danger with new devices that will assure peace to our country by their effectiveness."

M. R. S. Hutchison, personal representative of Mr. Edison, called on Secretary Daniels today and informed him of Mr. Edison's acceptance of the invitation.

Edison Glad to Render Service.

"Mr. Hutchison told me," said Secretary Daniels, "that Mr. Edison regarded my invitation as a call to duty that he would be glad to render any service possible to his country. Mr. Hutchison further stated that Mr. Edison would be very glad to send in a few days his reply to my letter of invitation." Secretary Daniels conferred with Rear Admirals Griffin, Taylor and Strauss, the naval officers who handle the problems of ordnance, construction, engineering and electricity as to the best way to get benefit of the advice of citizen inventors. As to the other advisory members to be invited Secretary Daniels said he was not ready to make any announcement but he felt assured that other men would respond to the call to duty. He expects to make announcement concerning them in a few days.

Explains His Purpose.

"What we want to do in this matter," said the secretary, "is to appeal to the American inventive genius to work for the navy and to study what we ought to do. We want them to give us the best that they can. Already since this war began, much has been done with our own resources. What has been done in the last three months has not yet appeared and work that is going on under supervision of our own experts and engineers will continue. But the idea of the advisory board will be to extend into the realms of the unknown in naval construction and possibilities of naval warfare. We want the advice of genius as to new lines. No one today is able to tell what such advice may bring forth. We cannot tell today what kind of a battleship we should have three years hence.

"For the first time in twenty years we have had an opportunity to test the kind of ships and ammunition that we have in actual naval warfare. Already we are putting guns on submarines and Admiral Taylor is at work on the subject of protection against submarines. I believe there will be as much revolution in naval construction in the future as there has been since the Monitor. The proposed board is one of those things that must grow and work out its own developments."

Secretary Daniels suggested as one of the possibilities the establishment in Washington of a large naval testing laboratory and also said that congress would be asked for a larger appropriation for investigation and experimentation.

WANTS JITNEY HELD AS PUBLIC UTILITY

Indianapolis, July 13—The Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company today filed with the public service commission a petition asking for an order "declaring persons owning, operating, managing and controlling jitney buses to be public utilities and subject to the authority of the public service commission."

The commission has set July 22 as a date for hearing on the petition. The traction company states in its petition that "the petitioner, a common carrier of passengers operating under local franchises and admittedly under the jurisdiction and subject to the regulation" of the public service commision, is met with a substantial and destructive competition of a new type of vehicle or car which is not limited in its operations to any fixed rates, which performs the same service in the same streets between the same points and at the same fare."

GREED CAUSE OF WAR, DECLARES SPEAKER

Dan White, of Chicago, Delivers Address on Subject of Socialism.

Declaring that he had no especial topic but that his message was one of brotherhood and the advancement of the cause of human liberty through industrial justice, Dan White, of Chicago, delivered a rousing address on socialism at the assembly room of the court house Monday evening.

Referring to the great war in Europe the speaker declared that the causes primarily of that conflict were brought about through economic and commercial necessities, the getting of markets for manufactured products which would not be bought back or used by the workers who produced them. Suspicion, doubt, greed, prejudice and national hatred contributed their quota of evil in bringing on the most terrible war in the history of the world. Economic pressure, declared the speaker, was therefore the cause of three millions of souls being sent into eternity with other millions of fighting men and non-combatants threatened with death every moment and the total loss of human life increasing every hour. The peoples of Europe had no quarrel, yet the masses of the working class are killing each other. He declared that it was the great moneyed interests and trusts that were interested in sending war supplies to Europe.

"The great Christian Endeavor convention at Chicago considered the question, 'Will John D. Rockefeller Go to Hell?' the speaker continued. "Well, his chances may be just as good as ours, but in the upbuilding of that great fortune Rockefeller must have known that crimes were committed in his name and in the name of the Standard Oil company."

SHOP AND RAIL ROAD NEWS

RUN OVER BY AN ENGINE; IS UNHURT

Louis Dera Allowed Entire Locomotive to Pass Over His Body.

Louis Dera, employed at the Pennsylvania company east car shops, was struck by a shop engine at 7:40 o'clock Tuesday morning and fell to the tracks between the rails. He lay perfectly still and the entire engine and tender passed over him, and he got up uninjured, without even a scratch. The accident occurred at the car shops.

It was rare presence of mind or else a complete paralysis from fear that caused the fellow to save his life. Fellow-employes yelled for a pick-up basket and ran toward the point at which his remains were expected, and Dera lay still, his eyes closed, in a peaceful dignity that bespoke a mind unruffled by such things as speeding railroad locomotives.

ANOTHER PENNSY RECORD

Has Been Accorded High Honor at San Francisco Exposition.

The Pennsylvania company today issued the following statement:

The management of the Pennsylvania railroad system has been informed by its representative at the Panama-Pacific exposition, at San Francisco, that the company has been awarded the grand prize, the highest honor which could be conferred upon any railroad system exhibiting at the exposition.

In supplying information requested by the international jury of awards, as a guide to its judgment representing the character and extent of the service which the Pennsylvania railroad system renders to the nation, the company's reply included these facts:

The freight service rendered by the Pennsylvania system in a year is the equivalent of one ton carried 36,900,000,000 miles; the passenger service is equivalent to one person carried 4,500,000,000,000 miles. The system's receipts are one million dollars per day. It pays out in wages a half million dollars daily and for supplies a quarter of a million. Its employes, in normal times, number upwards of 250,000 and its pay rolls indirectly support 1,000,000 persons.

The Pennsylvania railroad system has 11,800 miles of line, 26,400 miles of track, 7,500 locomotives, 275,000 freight cars and 6,800 passenger cars. It traverses thirteen states and the District of Columbia, and supplies transportation service to more than half the population of the United States. Its 4,500 stations include eight of the ten largest cities in the country.

SCHOYER IN CITY.

Chicago Vice President of the Pennsy Motors Through.

Resident Vice President M. J. Schoyer, of the Pennsylvania company at Chicago, was in this city Monday night. He stopped over at the Anthony in an automobile trip from Chicago to New York and was accompanied by his mother.

SICK ONE YEAR.

F. Henkenius Returns to Work at Pennsy Lumber Yard.

F. Henkenius, of the Pennsylvania company lumber yard, returned to his duties this morning fully recovered, after an illness of more than a year. A year ago last spring he was taken sick, and for a long time his condition was critical, but in the past few months he has recovered rapidly.

AMMUNITION PASSING THROUGH.

Ammunition for the use of the allies in the war zones of Europe is to pass through Fort Wayne daily, until a change in further orders. The ammunition will be carried through here over the Nickel Plate on train No. 4, and will be contained in a special baggage car handled by express.

FEDERATION MEETING.

The Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last evening listened to an address by Organizer Thomas Flynn, and transacted nothing but routine business. The Hendee Manufacturing company was placed on the "fair list" and several committees were re-arranged.

GOES ON VACATION.

Foreman M. W. Kemp, of the Pennsylvania company lumber yard, left today on a vacation of two weeks. He will spend part of the time at Canton, O., and the remainder at the lakes.

HAS EYE BURNED.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The awning gang has worked wonders over night on the Grand Rapids and Indiana offices.

E. Feaser, of the Pennsylvania forge shop, and his wife, have gone to Detroit on a vacation.

After several weeks of unusual calm northern travelers are obeying that impulse and the lake traffic has become almost vivid in its sensational advance.

The Pennsylvania company is relaying its tracks on the elevation "hump" in front of the offices.

H. H. Burlage today returned to the Pennsylvania company planing mills after an illness of ten days.

J. C. Brake has returned to the Pennsylvania road foreman's office after a vacation spent in Chicago.

Ward L. Wilt went east last night.

Mrs. M. Carey, wife of the Pennsylvania shopman, is in Chicago.

Pennsylvania Fireman W. E. Stevens has returned to his duties after being off duty two months with a severe attack of rheumatism.

BIG CROWD VISITS MIDSUMMER SHOW

Ideal Weather Draws 3,000 People and All Seem to Enjoy It.

While there was some disappointment because one or two of the larger feature attractions of the Rutherford Greater Shows, here for the week in connection with the Midsummer Festival given for the benefit of the Anti-Tuberculosis league, were not open at the inaugural exhibition Monday evening, the 3,000 people who visited the grounds seemed to have a good time and the other shows were fairly patronized. Beginning today the main gate will be free and for the balance of the week no admission will be charged for entrance to the grounds. Because of throwing the gates open the special features planned for each night have necessarily been adandoned.

There was thrilling interest Monday evening in the great free open air act given by the Three Erfords, premiere aerialists and teeth gymnasts. It is one of the most beautiful, as well as most sensational acts of the sort ever seen in Fort Wayne. The Erfords will exhibit twice daily—afternoon and evening—during the week.

There was failure to get the water connections made in time to open the electric fountain Monday evening, but it is now in readiness. The Wild West show also had difficulties, due to its late arrival, and could not open, but will have its gates swinging wide the balance of the week.

The big crowd had a merry time in its slow procession from show to show and from booth to booth of concessionaries, listened to the barkers, heard the Royal Italian band and munched peanuts and popcorn.

The "Country Store" is the special concession of the Anti-Tuberculosis league, and it was fairly patronized during the evening. This concession makes a direct appeal to all who want to aid the league in its life-saving work.

If the day be stormy and rain be falling up to 12 o'clock noon tomorrow, Boys' Day will be postponed till the next fair day.

CITY TO GET DEEDS FOR OSAGE STREET

Council Will Ratify Revised Plans for Elevation There.

It is expected that before the city council meets Tuesday evening that the city will be in possession of the deeds for the property donated by William K. Noble for the opening and extension of Osage street through his land and that the council will then suspend the rules and pass the ordinance ratifying the plans for track elevation at the Lake Shore road. This program was agreed upon at a conference of the track elevation committee with Mayor Hosey, City Attorney Colerick and the members of the board of works Monday evening. It is desired to avoid a waste of time by having the new plans referred to the council committee, and the committee was made familiar with them Monday night and can report at the council meeting. With the property in possession for opening Osage street over a new route, some $2,100 of assessments collected from affected property owners for the improvement will be refunded to them by the city. The property donated by Mr. Noble in consideration of the new route for the opening consists of an irregular strip fifty feet wide and approximately 600 feet in length.

CITY WILL NOT RENT IT.

The board of works has declined a proposal made to it by E. Gilmartin & Co., that the city rent a part of the buildings of the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company's plant at Calhoun, Murray and Clinton streets, recently purchased by the Gilmartin interests, and use it for a storage house. The board believes that the rental asked—$5,000 a year—would make such an arrangement unprofitable for the city. The board, for more than a year, has had in hand the architect's plans for a storage building and shops for the city waterworks department, which it is expected will sooner or later be built on municipal grounds situated on North Clinton street.

TO RAISE CLERK'S SALARY.

There will go to the city council Tuesday evening an ordinance to appropriate $40 a month from the track elevation fund to be added to the salary of Heary W. Becker, clerk of the board of public works, whose more than onerous duties in the customary routine of the office are greatly increased by the city's track elevation affairs. Mr. Becker's salary of $1,000 a year is on all hands admitted to be woefully incommensurate with the volume of work he performs and the high efficiency with which it is done. It is said that no man is wholly indispensable in any position, but any of the officials who have held municipal positions during the past four administrations will unanimously agree that the loss of Mr. Becker to the public service of Fort Wayne would create a hole there would be some more or less mad scrambling to fill.

To Get Rid of Unsightly Hairs

There is only one safe and sure way to get rid of hairs—and that is to dissolve them—then you kill the hair roots entirely. To do this, get one ounce of simple sulfo solution from your druggist—apply with the finger tips—keep the hairs moist for a minute or two. You will see them gradually shrivel up and dissolve—wash the parts with warm water—and you will find that the hairs have disappeared entirely—leaving the skin soft and smooth as velvet, without a mark or scar of any kind.

AUDITOR AULT ON DUTY.

John Ault, auditor for the city light and power works, is again on duty after being confined to home for some weeks by reason of an automobile accident in which he was hurled through a windshield and had his throat and chin terribly gashed. He was riding with Rev. Father Noll, of Huntington, who turned his machine into the curb to avoid collision with another car.

TO PAVE WAYNE TRACE.

The board of works has ordered the city engineering department to prepare plans for the paving of Wayne Trace from New Haven avenue to the Pennsylvania railroad right of way, where grades are now being separated.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Filed by First National Bank Against Henry Hite, of Decatur.

Alleging that Henry Hite, a well known business man at Decatur, is indebted to it in the sum of $6,500, the First National bank of this city has filed a petition in the United States court asking that he be declared a bankrupt.

The petition says that the First National bank loaned a large sum of money to the Cardwell Mill company and the Allison Real Estate exchange, with Rufus K. Allison first surety, and Henry Hite and Julius Haugh surety for Allison. The property of the company has been exhausted, it is alleged, and there remains due on the debt $13,000, of which Hite is liable for one-half.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR SCHOOL DESKS

At a meeting of the school trustees Tuesday morning the contract for 420 stationary desks for the new Harmer school was awarded to the Peabody School Furniture company, of North Manchester, Ind., and the contract for 168 movable desks to the Langslow-Fowler company, of Chicago. The bid of the Peabody School Furniture company was $2.29 per seat and the Langslow-Fowler company was $4.25 and $4.50 per seat, depending upon the size.

Bids were submitted by twelve companies as follows: Edward Helmke, jr., E. H. Stafford Manufacturing company, American Seating company, Bayless & Sons, Peabody School Furniture company, Fort Wayne Specialty company, Clausmeyer & Archer, Emporium, Theodore Koontz company and Langslow-Fowler company. Each gave bids according to the catalogue number of the desks manufactured by the company. The stationary seats are to be of birch and mahogany finish and the movable seats are to be of steel and oak.

The bids ranged from $2.20 to $2.50 for the stationary desks and from $4.25 to $10 for the movable desks. The bids were opened at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, but the contract was not awarded until Tuesday morning.

Another meeting of the board will be held Thursday at which time bids will be opened for contemplated improvements at the McCulloch school building.

At the meeting Monday afternoon Mrs. R. K. Erwin and Mrs. E. H. Mertz, representing the petitioners from the Franklin school district, held a conference with the board relative to making the building sufficiently large for adding a German department and the fifth grade. The matter will be taken up later. It is probable that a portable school will be placed at the building.

DAY BRINGS TWO MORE LETTERS FROM PEARCE

New Orleans, La., July 13.—Two more letters signed "Pearce" in which the writer threatens to destroy British merchant and muleships were delivered here today by mail, one to an afternoon newspaper and the other to the chief of police. In both the writer demanded the release of Hans Halle, held in connection with receipt of a similar letter by the New Orleans Times-Picayune, Sunday night.

Police Chief Reynolds says he regards the letter seriously. Some, who have been watching the case closely are inclined to believe today's letters are a hoax. Their phraseology leads some to believe the writer was attempting to adopt the style of the writer of the one received Sunday night.

WILL ISSUE NEW BAGGAGE TARIFF

Special Committee Completes Its Deliberations—Traction News.

Members of the baggage committee of the Central Electric Traffic association, who were called to Fort Wayne to discuss the Cummins amendment to the act to regulate commerce, have completed their deliberations.

Under the new act the carriers are required to assume all liability for loss and damage, whereas formerly the liability of the carriers was limited to $100 valuation. The committee will recommend the issuing of the supplement to the baggage tariff to comply with the Cummins act and those sending baggage from one state to another will be required to sign a slip declaring the value of the baggage. An extra charge will be made for baggage valued over $100.

The next meeting of the Central Traffic association will not be held until September at which time representatives of all the interurban roads in the central states will gather in this city.

Greenland in Logansport.

On account of the absence of Samuel W. Greenland, general manager of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, the regular weekly meeting of the heads of the different departments was not held Monday. Mr. Greenland returned from Gun Lake, near Shelbyville, Mich., Monday afternoon, and left Tuesday morning for Logansport.

The regular monthly meeting of the Employes' Mutual Beneficial association of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company was held Monday afternoon at the general offices of the company.

Excursion to Niagara Falls.

Two low rate excursions will be operated to Niagara Falls this summer by the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, the first on Wednesday, July 21, and the second on Wednesday, August 11.

The ladies' society of Deborah Rebekah lodge will give a tea in the lodge rooms Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Odowin Doenges, the "Lincoln Highway Kid," who started to walk from this city to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, is now at Fort Bridge, Wyo., according to a letter received by his brother, Louis Doenges 1214 Eliza street.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 13—Prospects of increased receipts here had a bearish effect today on the price of wheat. Selling by cash houses started the market downward and special attention was given to the favorable harvest weather in Illinois, whereas Kansas rains were largely ignored. The opening, which ranged from 1c off to ⅛c advance, was followed by a decided general setback before a recovery began.

The close was strong at 1½c to 2¾c net advance.

Corn eased off on account of improved weather and the sag in wheat values. Buyers were scarce. After opening ⅛@¼c down to a shade advance the market underwent a limited decline all around.

The close, however, was strong at the same as last night to ⅝c higher.

In the oats trade governing influence was the bearish action of other grain. Buying was restricted mainly to resting orders not operative except at losses to sellers.

Provisions scored sharp gains. Belief seemed general that at least for the present liquidating sales had come to an end.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 13.—War stocks again were the dominant features at the opening of today's market, with new high records for Bethlehem Steel, New York Airbrake and General Motors. American Can, which bears some relation to war issues, also sold at a record quotation, likewise Republic Steel preferred. Various industrial and equipment shares rose one to two points, with seven points for Cuban Sugar and an additional twelve for American coal products. Such speculative favorites as United States Steel, Union Pacific and Reading were pratically unchanged while St. Paul and Canadian Pacific were heavy.

The temptation to take profits on the rise caused a general reaction before the end of the first hour, losses in Canadian Pacific, New York Central, New Haven and American Smelting extending from one to two points, while coal products and Cuban sugar yielded virtually all their early gains and Bethlehem Steel fell two points under yesterday's close. Future sales of steel 5s at unchanged prices were the feature of the bond market.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Wednesday:

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

For Indiana, Ohio and Lower Michigan: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

An area of low pressure occupies the northeast, and another the Rocky mountain region. High pressure covers the Mississippi valley and there is also high pressure off the north Pacific coast. Showers have resulted from this pressure distribution in various widely separated localities in the northern part of the country, and also in the middle Mississippi valley. Temperatures are practically normal over the greater portion of the country, and during the last twenty-four hours no temperature change of importance occurred except in a few localities.

Conditions indicate generally fair weather during the next thirty-six hours. There will be no marked change in temperature, but the tendency is towards higher temperature.

P. M'DONOUGH,
Local Forecaster.

PHOTOGRAPHERS ARE TO HAVE BIG TIME

Those contemplating having their pictures taken next week had better have it done this week. Next week nearly every photographer in the city of Fort Wayne will be in Indianapolis attending the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Photographers' Association of America.

Among those who are going from Fort Wayne are: Ed F. Perry, F. Schanz, M. L. Jones, C. S. Hurdle, N. P. Standish, Henry Herman, of the Wayne studio, and Jesse E. Eark, of the New York studio. There will probably be others.

The convention promises to be the largest gathering of professional photographers ever held, as every state in the union will be well represented.

A deed to 978,055 acres of land was filed recently at Dalhart, Dallam county, Tex., the price being $4,736,000; $50 in revenue stamps was attached.

TEUTON AND GAUL FORGET GREAT WAR

Stage Friendly Souse Out of Which a Deadly Assault Issues.

Joe Donstetter, a German cook, and Eduard Tino, a French chef, started a promising movement for world peace, Monday afternoon, and were getting along fine until they entered the Heidelberg cafe on Calhoun street. Both were thoroughly mellowed with fraternal sentiments and copious imbibations of strong drinks—so much so indeed that the man refused to let them have anything in the place. Tino wandered to the street and pillowed his head against a pillar of the People's Trust building. Donstetter ordered a beer and as the bartender was serving it that functionary decided Donstetter had enough and more and politely withdrew the full and beady flagon. This incensed Donstetter, who seized a heavy stein and was about to hurl it at the bartender when Jacob Clemons, the aged father of Dan Clemons, proprietor of the Heidelberg, seized the drunken and angry man's arms. Donstetter, who is heavy and powerful, with terrific force hurled the elder Clemons away from him and the old man was catapulted into the lunch stand, upon the sharp edge of which a gash some six inches in length was cut in his forehead. The injured man required the attention of a surgeon, who took half a dozen stitches in closing the wound. Officer Paul arrested both Donstetter and Tino. Judge Kerr fined Donstetter $10 and costs and added twenty-five days in jail and assessed Tino $5 and costs. Mr. Clemons, who is 70 years old, was merely trying to prevent a deadly assault on the bartender. Donstetter broke down and blubbered heartily in court.

Youth in for Vicious Assault.

Roy Burton, aged 15, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on George Singer, a 9-year-old lad, and the case was certified to the juvenile court. The Singer boy and a sister who is older were in a swing at the Guildlin playgrounds when the Burton lad came along and wanted the swing, it is said. According to the story given the police Burton threw the smaller boy from the swing to the ground and then viciously kicked him two or three times.

Other City Court Cases.

John Neltung, a Roumanian, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct and went to jail. He was arrested on the Wabash track elevation near Taylor street by Officer Boseker, who saw the foreigner make an indecent spectacle of himself.

Sam Carpenter, who comes in from the country occasionally and puts on a souse, was arrested by Officer Hartzell. He drew $5 and costs and went to jail.

John Coughlin, arrested on a drunk charge, was continued to July 16 and went to jail in default of $100 bond. A more serious charge may be filed against him.

Jim Moore, who has been on a prolonged spree and is much shot to pieces, was continued until the 17th on a drunk charge and was put under $200 bond to keep him locked up away from drink.

Mike Callahan, a drunk, who was found down and out early Tuesday morning on North Clinton street, was turned loose.

Bruce E. Kirkland and J. B. Banta appeared in court to answer charges of not having their auto lights going after dark. Their machines were standing on West DeWald street and they were just about to turn on their lights when Officer Byerley came along and ordered them to report to headquarters. Judge Kerr read the law to them and continued the cases indefinitely, as there was no evidence of intent to violate the law.

Two of the Three Sensational Erfords, Great Free Act at Midsummer Festival.

The Three Erfords—world's premier aerialists and teeth gymnasts—have been engaged for the week to give two free open-air performances daily at the Midsummer Festival on North Clinton street. Their act is brilliant, thrilling and beautiful. Mlle. Tasma, who has the distinction of being the greatest spinner who performs in the air, takes her name from an abbreviation of her native land of Tasmania in the far antipodes. The Erfords' act is scarcely describable in words. It must be seen.

ATTENDS CONVENTION.

Clarence Spiegel is Delegate to Meeting of Walther League.

Clarence Spiegel, son of F. C. Spiegel, is attending the national convention of the Walther league this week at Los Angeles, Cal., as a delegate from the Emmaus Young Men's society. He expects to visit with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Kirchner and his cousin, Rev. E. Kirchner and family, who live at San Luis Obispo and after visiting with them for several weeks will make an automobile trip with Rev. Kirchner to the exposition at San Francisco, a distance of 250 miles.

Mr. Spiegel writes that on his trip to the convention he stopped at the exposition and saw Art Smith loop-the-loop at night. He says that there is no doubt but that Art is putting Fort Wayne on the map at the exposition.

Mr. Spiegel expects to visit Yellowstone park on his return trip, which will be the latter part of August, in time to attend the opening of Concordia college, where he is a student in the senior class.

Dr. L. K. Gould has opened offices above Gerding's drugstore, corner Pontiac and Anthony boulevard. Dr. Gould is a graduate of the Rush college, Chicago, Ill.

During 1914 there were recorded in Chicago 3,458 divorces, 119 marriage annulments and thirty-seven decrees of separate maintenance.

FURTHER ADVANCES CLAIMED BY BERLIN

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Further German advances in the vicinity of Souchez, where the cemetery was captured from the French early on Monday, are reported in the official statement from Berlin. The Germans claim to have pushed their positions forward across the cemetery along a width of 600 yards and captured the cabaret Rouge on the road to Arras. The French declare a violent attack by German troops in the Labyrinth was beaten off.

Hard fighting continued in the Woevre region, where the Germans are believed in Paris to have resumed the drive at Verdun. The French reports hand grenade combats and cannonading at Apremont, Regnieville and in Le Pretre forest. The Germans claim to have broken up with heavy losses four French attacks on Le Pretre forest positions.

Thirty-five French aeroplanes swept over the railroad station serving the Calonne trench region and that of the Apremont forest. The wind was blowing forty miles an hour, the French report states, but despite this 171 bombs were dropped and several fires were started. All the airmen escaped.

Berlin, July 13.—(Via London 3:30 p. m.)—The German army headquarters staff today gave out the following official statement: "In the western theater: A French hand grenade attack at the sugar refinery of Souchez was repulsed. In connection with the stormy attack on the cemetery our positions were pushed forward across the cemetery over a width of 600 yards and the Cabaret Rouge situated on the road to Arras, also was captured.

"The number of prisoners has increased to three officers and 250 men. Several attempted enemy counter attacks were subjected to our fire and their execution thereby was prevented.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle the enemy developed lively artillery activity. He attacked our positions in the forest of Le Pretre four times in the course of the evening and night. The

STUDIES OUT CASE ALONE

Wilson at Cornish Leaves Order That He is Not to Be Disturbed.

PRESIDENT MAPPING AMERICA'S POLICY

Final Decision in German Situation May Not Come Until Next Week.

Cornish, N. H., July 13.—President Wilson devoted his attention today to a detailed study of the situation growing out of the receipt of the recent note in German submarine warfare. After a game of golf with Dr. Cary T. Grayson on a course near here, he returned to his study at Harlakenden house, with the official text of the note before him.

The president, who gave directions that he be left undisturbed, had absolute seclusion and quiet for the consideration of the German situation. No plans were made this morning for President Wilson's return to Washington and there was every indication that he intended remaining here several days longer. By the time he goes back to Washington it is expected he will have the next step in the American policy mapped out in a general way in his own mind.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

Washington, July 13.—Secretary Lansing said today there were no developments in the situation with Germany, that he had no word from President Wilson and did not know whether he would go to Cornish, or await the

National Meat Market and Jefferson Shoe Store Damaged by Blaze.

THE LOSSES.

Randall & Stults, on building	$2,000
National Market Company	2,000
Jefferson Shoestore	1,000

Fire, the origin of which is now being investigated by fire department officials, did damage amounting to about $5,000 to the Randall & Stults building at 1032 Calhoun street shortly before 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. The National Market company, in which shop the blaze was discovered, and the Jefferson Shoestore suffered the losses.

Patrolman Pat Madden discovered smoke pouring out of the airshaft in the rear of the building and close to the Jefferson theater at 4:30 o'clock and pulled box No. 115 at Jefferson and Calhoun. When the apparatus from No. 3 engine house arrived the fire seemed to be in the Jefferson street side of the block, and it was not until Capt. John Stahlhut ran around the corner to the meat market and saw the flames in the rear that the seat of the blaze was known. Smashing the big front door the firemen were almost overpowered by the heat, but began a hard fight to get at the flames in the rear.

Quell Blaze Quickly.

In the meantime No. 1 and No. 5 engine companies arrived and began to work from adjoining roofs, for by this time the flames had broken through the top of the building. Two engines and the chemical stream were used, and in less than forty-five minutes the fire was practically out.

However, it had burned through the ceiling of the meat market into the secdeman, G. A. Philbrick and Fred Todd, vice presidents, and Attorney William Ballou, secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Arthur J. Folsom, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, told of the great good that the league could do in the civic work of the city. He said that the league should boost for a Young Men's Christian association building, for the new Hope hospital, the playgrounds and all other institutions for the good of the city.

Rev. J. A. Nipper, superintendent of the Rescue Home Mission, told of the great work that the league could do in the suppression of vice in the city.

Mr. Price's Address.

Upon the election of Mr. Price as president of the league he delivered the following address of acceptance:

Gentlemen:

I believe that it will be understood without any elaborate expression on my part that I cannot feel otherwise than highly complimented by the honor you have conferred upon me this evening.

But since our time as serious men, engaged in serious business, is too valuable to be wasted in complimentary inanities, I shall deny you the privilege of hearing what a fine bunch of exceedingly intelligent men you are and what excellent judgment you exercised in the selection of your nominating committee.

JURY MAY GET THAW CASE BY TOMORROW

Defendant in Court Maps Out Auto Trip He'll Take When Freed.

New York, July 13.—Attorneys appearing in Harry K. Thaw's sanity trial today hoped that the case might be in the hands of the jury tomorrow. While Dr. Austin Flint, first of the state's alienists, was being cross examined today, Thaw sat in the court room mapping out the route for the automobile trip he expects to take to the Panama exposition if set free.

John B. Stanchfield, chief counsel for Thaw, closely questioned Dr. Flint, apparently with the idea of showing, if possible, that he was mistaken yesterday when he declared that constitutional inferiority with a paranoiac tendency, which he described Thaw as having, was a designation adopted by the medical profession within the past two years. However, it was shown that the term had been recognized since 1908 and that constitutional inferiority was a distinct form of insanity.

A report of Dr. Flint's hospital was then read to the jury, which stated that eighteen out of twenty-one persons suffering from constitutional inferiority recovered. Dr. Flint then said that he was willing to drop the paranoiac trend and the constitutional inferiority qualifications and call Thaw a pure paranoiac.

LONG UNCONSCIOUS AFTER AN ASSAULT

Fred Lageman Has Been in Insensible State for Four Days.

Following an assault made on him Saturday evening by Alfred Boerger, aged 22, of 1914 Hanna street, Fred Lageman, aged 40, of 243 Weisser Park avenue, has lain in an unconscious condition at his home under the care of a physician. Beyond a gash in his scalp, where he came in contact with an iron fence on Hanna street, near Lasselle, when Boerger knocked him down, Lageman has no evidence of injuries, save his persistent insensibility. Dr. A. J. Kesler, who attends him, says there is no indication of a fracture of the skull, but that the man has sustained a terrific concussion.

Lageman was walking along Hanna street Saturday evening with his child in his arms when he was accosted by Boerger, who came out of a barber shop near Lasselle street. Some words followed and Boerger delivered Lageman a heavy blow, knocking him down. In falling Lageman's head struck the iron fence. There had been ill-feeling between the two men for a fortnight prior to the assault.

Boerger was arrested at his home shortly after noon Tuesday by Detective Sergeants Charles Spillner and Peter Junk on a charge of assault and battery and is held without bond to await the outcome of Lageman's injuries.

Lageman's condition is said on Tuesday afternoon to be critical and the result is a matter of grave doubt.

Nicholson, of Massachusetts, as grand exalted ruler, succeeding Raymond Benjamin, of California. W. F. Schad, of Milwaukee, was elected grand leading knight; William Lown, Saginaw, Mich., grand loyal knight; E. R. Ingersoll, Seattle, grand lecturing knight; Thomas E. GETTING IN TOUCH WITH MEXICO CITY

Washington, July 13.—American Consul Silliman, at Vera Cruz, telegraphed the state department today that the first cable message went through to Mexico City yesterday and that the first through train from Vera Cruz to the capital was expected to reach Mexico City today.

Large forces of workmen are busy on the telegraph lines and the communication is expected to improve rapidly. The accumulated messages, Consul Silliman reported, run into the thousands. Railroad communication will not be fully effective until tomorrow, though passengers go forward today by changing at Puebla.

EXPERTS NEEDED TO MAKE LAWS, HE SAYS

Many inconsistencies in the law were cited by Harry Hilgemann, prosecuting attorney, in an address delivered at noon Tuesday at the regular weekly meeting of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange at the Commercial club.

He declared that a man who misuses an animal is liable to a fine of $200 and six months' imprisonment, while the maximum punishment for a person who misuses or abuses a child is but $50 and thirty days' imprisonment.

The speaker declared practically everything else is done by experts except the making of laws, which is one reason for the many inconsistencies. He said, however, that after the law is violated there are always plenty of experts to take care of the violator.

Mr. Hilgemann said the people of Fort Wayne should take more interest in civic matters and take advantage of the opportunities afforded in a free republic such as this one.

WILL HEALTH BOARD DEAL LIQUOR BLOW?

Question of Its Power to Stop Sales is to Be Brought Up.

Indianapolis, July 13.—Whether the state board of health has power to regulate, or perhaps prohibit, the sale of alcohol and alcoholic products in the state of Indiana will be brought up before the next meeting of the board. A fight for some sort of drastic action by the board against alcoholic beverages will be started by Dr. James R. Boyers, president of the board.

Dr. Boyers and others believe, it is said, that the state board has powers to attack alcoholic beverages on the ground that they are disease producers. Just what form such a fight against liquor would take is, of course, not known, but supporters of the scheme believe the board has wide powers in the situation.

The announcement that the Indiana liquor situation might be attacked came unexpected today from Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, who said he was not certain when the next meeting of the state board would be held. Dr. Boyers has power to call a special meeting. Dr. Hurty said he was uninformed as to whether Dr. Boyers contemplated a special meeting. Ordinarily the board would not meet again until September in regular session.

The attempt to find a way for the Indiana board to attack the liquor problem is parallel with action already planned, and about to be taken by Dr. S. S. Goldwater, health commissioner of New York city. Dr. Goldwater's contemplated plan of action has been outlined to the Indiana board.

REPORT ON MILITARY POLICY READY SOON

Washington, July 13.—The report of the board of army officers working out a military policy to be submitted to congress probably will be completed, it became known today, early next month. This will give Secretary Garrison ample time to prepare his estimates by October and in time for a special session of congress should one be called for that month. No hint as to the increases in men or guns to be recommended by the board has been given out.

Reports of military observers abroad are considered and whatever light they throw on army problems arising from the European war will be reflected in the report.

ENTIRE CREW SAFE IN PORT

Picked Up in Lake Huron After Choctaw Sinks in Collision.

COAL STEAMER IS SEVERED IN TWAIN

Goes Down So Quickly That Men Are Forced to Leap Overboard.

Port Huron, Mich., July 13.—Captain Charles Fox and crew of the steamer Choctaw, of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, laden with coal up-bound, which was cut in two off Presque Isle, Lake Huron, during heavy fog Monday morning are safe in port at Sarnia, Ontario, opposite here, where they arrived today aboard the steamer Wahcondah, of the Canada steamship lines, limited.

The Choctaw sank immediately after collision with the Wahcondah. The latter's bow was punctured and she received a large hole in her side, it is said, but water tight compartments kept her afloat.

According to the report of Captain D. F. Cornell, of the Wahcondah, the Choctaw sank so quickly some of the crew could not reach life boats and were compelled to jump overboard. The lake was comparatively calm, however, and they succeeded in keeping afloat until rescued by boats from the Canadian vessel. The loss of the Choctaw and her cargo is estimated at $125,000, while the damage to the Wahcondah will amount to several thousand dollars. The Choctaw was 266 feet long with a beam of 28 feet and a depth of 23 feet. She was built in 1892. The members of the crew left for their homes today.

TOLEDO WILL GET GIFT OF BELGIAN

Art Treasure Appreciation of Brand Whitlock and American People.

Toledo, Ohio, July 13.—Because Brand Whitlock is a Toledoan and because he has made himself the idol of the Belgian people, one of the finest art treasures of the war devastated kingdom will soon hang in the Toledo museum of art.

As a token of appreciation for what the people of the United States has done for Belgium, Charles Leon Cardon, artist and collector of Brussels, has presented to the people of this country the most celebrated painting in his collection. It is Van Dykes sketch for his picture, "Saint Martin Partagant Son Manteau," according to information just received from Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, by Marshall Sheppay, of Toledo.

In a letter to Mr. Sheppay, Mr. Whitlock says that in Mr. Cardon's home on the Quai Au' Bois a Bruker in Brussels there are the results of two generations of artistic appreciation, and that the gift, "Saint Martin cutting his mantle and sharing it with a poor man" is the prize picture of the collection. In the letter of presentation Mr. Cardon says in part:

"The Belgians have contracted toward the citizens of the republic of the United States a debt of gratitude from which they can never free themselves. With a generosity, an enthusiasm, a grandeur of soul of which history offers no example they have come to the aid of our population whom famine was staring in the face.

"Thanks to your noble citizens, thousands and thousands of Belgians have not been victims of a horrible hunger and continue still to live and to work for the approaching rebirth of their unhappy country.

"I should be happy if I could be favored by seeing this souvenir of art of the Flemish school find its place among the collections of the museum of art at Toledo, Ohio.

"In that city the residence of his excellency, Brand Whitlock, it will recall the many things that Monsieur Ministere by his high intelligence and inexhaustible devotion, has been able to realize to the profit of our unhappy country so cruelly and unjustly tried."

GERMAN COMMANDER'S SILENCE MYSTIFIES

London, July 13.—Contradictory reports regarding the extent of the Austro-Hungarian reverse at Krasnik, in southern Russian Poland continue, some even claiming that the Austro-Hungarians are contemplating a general retreat, but the mystery of the situation is the persistent silence maintained by Field Marshal von Mackensen, who, apparently, is making no effort to resume the German advance on Warsaw.

Petrograd reasons this inaction of the Germans as being due to the fear of Field Marshal von Mackensen that his left flank would be exposed while the Austrians were on the defense, but some fear is expressed by London observers that the brilliant German military commander is planning an unexpected coup.

The German attack on Souchez, where the French advances had threatened the town of Lille, may indicate the arrival on the western front of the long expected Teutonic reinforcements, but evidence still is lacking of any concerted offensive on either side along the battle front in France and Belgium.

Germany and Austria Hungary, according to dispatches to the Balkan states, are using every diplomatic resource to induce Roumania to join military forces with the central powers or at least to preserve an attitude of permanent friendly neutrality. It is reported that the Austro-Hungarian minister at Bucharest has offered the Roumanian government liberal territorial compensation for armed assistance, countering Russia's offer of Transylvania with that of Bessarabia. Her reward for friendly neutrality is said to be Bukowina as far as the river Pruth.

From Austrian sources comes a report that Russia is giving substantial proof of the possibility of Roumania accepting one of these Teutonic offers by building trenches and entanglements along her Roumanian frontier.

Bulgaria and Turkey are said to have reached a deadlock in their negotiations on account of the refusal of Sofia to do more than preserve a friendly neutrality in return for territorial compensations from Constantinople.

NOW FORTIFYING FRONTIER.

Russia Preparing for Possible Attack by Roumania.

Berlin, July 13.—(Via London 1:55 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from its correspondent at Zernowitz Bukowina, says:

"The Russians are fortifying their Roumanian border. Many thousands of men are at work digging trenches parallel with the border and building barbed wire entanglements. The operations are being rushed with all speed."

The Russian government Bessarabia borders, Roumania on the east. Austria Hungary is reported to have pledged Roumania to undertake the conquest of the Bessarabia and transfer it to the Balkan state in exchange for Roumania's active support in the war.

Russia on the other hand has attempted to win the support of Roumania for the allies by promising the cession of the Hungarian territory of Transylvania, which borders Roumania on the west.

FATHER OF "SAFETY FIRST" PASSES AWAY

Dr. J. A. Holmes Spread Idea to All Phases of Industrial Activity.

Denver, Col., July 13.—Joseph Austin Holmes, director of the federal bureau of mines at Washington and a widely known geologist, died at his home here early today of tuberculosis. He came to Denver about four months ago in the hope of regaining his health, but grew steadily weaker.

Dr. Holmes was 55 years old and a native of South Carolina. He had been director of the bureau of mines since its creation by congress in 1910. His service of the federal government began in 1904 when he was placed in charge of the United States geological survey laboratories for testing fuels and structural materials. He is survived by a widow and four children.

Dr. Holmes was regarded by his associates in the government's service as the father of the bureau of mines which by a campaign of education and experiment has largely reduced the death toll among the underground workers. He also was accredited with making "safety first" a national movement. He took it for the slogan of the mine bureau's work and it spread to all phases of industrial activity.

ANOTHER SPEAKER ENGAGED.

A. P. Hollis, of Fargo, N. D., Will Discuss Agricultural Subjects.

Superintendent D. O. McComb has engaged A. P. Hollis, of Fargo, N. D., of the North Dakota Agricultural college and government experiment station, as one of the speakers at the teachers' institute meeting to be held here Aug. 30 to Sept. 3. Prof. Hollis was recommended by Clarence Henry, county agent. The other speaker will be Dr. Carolyn Geisel, of Battle Creek, Mich.

BRYAN EXPLAINS UNNECESSARY RISK

Patriotic to Avoid Possibility of Involving Country in War, He Says.

Hermosa Beach, Cal., July 13.—William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, who is spending a brief vacation here with his son, issued a statement today in explanation of what he meant by "unnecessary risk" contained in his comment in connection with the last German note. He said:

"Any traveler takes an unnecessary risk when he goes into the war zone on a belligerent ship, knowing that it is subject to attack by submarines. A traveler also takes unnecessary risks when he rides on a neutral ship carrying ammunition.

"I believe that our government would be justified in separating passengers from ammunition, but until this is done American travelers would be justified in refusing to take passage on belligerent ships or a neutral ship carrying ammunition.

"If patriotism requires a man to risk his life for his country when his country is engaged in war it would seem to be patriotic for a citizen to avoid risks that might involve his country in war."

An Eminent Foreigner Says:

The most typical American characteristic is willingness to try anything once.

In politics or philanthropy men depend on opinions and theory. In science and mechanics they should rely on facts.

When you make an investment in glasses—don't confuse finance with theory; and mechanics and science with chance—just as tho' the facts were not there.

In ten years we have made over 15,000 glasses. They are our reference. Inquiry will obviate the necessity of taking even one chance.

AGRICULTURAL WORK IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

The outlook for worth-while agricultural work in the schools of Allen county is very promising for the coming term, according to D. O. McComb, county superintendent.

Great progress has been made toward good agricultural practice on Indiana farms as a result of the work of the public schools in pre-vocational agriculture. The schools have done a notable work in the improvement of the dairy interests of the state. Fruit and vegetable growing have received a great deal of attention in the schools. Budding, grafting, pruning and spraying of fruit trees have been practiced extensively by pupils.

Mr. McComb is desirous of improving the agricultural work of the schools. Parents have learned to respect the work of the schools because of the profitable results obtained by following the suggestions which their boys have made.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Genesis 42:1-17.

1 Now when Jacob saw that there was corn in Egypt, Jacob said unto his sons, Why do ye look one upon another?

2 And he said, Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt: get you down thither, and buy for us from thence; that we may live, and not die.

3 And Joseph's ten brethren went down to buy corn in Egypt.

4 But Benjamin, Joseph's brother, Jacob sent not with his brethren; for he said, Lest peradventure mischief befall him.

5 And the sons of Israel came to buy corn among those that came: for the famine was in the land of Canaan.

6 And Joseph was the governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and Joseph's brethren came, and bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth.

7 And Joseph saw his brethren, and he knew them, but made himself strange unto them, and spake roughly unto them; and he said unto them, Whence come ye? And they said, From the land of Canaan to buy food.

8 And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.

9 And Joseph remembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

10 And they said unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy food are thy servants come.

11 We are all one man's sons; we are true men, thy servants are no spies.

12 And he said unto them, Nay, but to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.

13 And they said, Thy servants are twelve brethren, the sons of one man in the land of Canaan; and, behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one is not.

14 And Joseph said unto them, That is it that I spake unto you, saying, Ye are spies:

15 Hereby ye shall be proved: By the life of Pharaoh ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither.

16 Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether there be any truth in you: or else by the life of Pharaoh surely ye are spies.

Entrance Fees for the Primary

It is beginning to be apparent that when we run out of other troubles we can safely turn to the new Indiana primary law, as yet untried in a practical way, as a source of perplexity and worry. Considerable dust has already been kicked up and a test in the courts proposed over the section which stipulates that the voter must have at the last previous election supported at least a majority of the candidates of the party with which he now desires to participate in the selection of candidates. It is contended in many quarters that this effectually debars the independent voter—a most necessary adjunct to the body politic—from moving for the nomination of good men irrespective of party, and that it shuts out entirely the man who at the last previous election may have voted the ticket of a party not in existence locally on the primary day.

But somebody has now raised another objection. It is to that section of the primary law which stipulates the payment of a fee by the candidate in order that his name may appear on the primary ballot. The provision is for the payment of one per cent. of the first years' salary of the position sought, on the theory that the nominees or the candidates for nominations, taking their chances on success and later reimbursement, should help the state, or the county, or the city, pay the cost of the primary. It is possible, of course, that this may be legally construed as an abridgment of the heaven-born American right to "run" for office whenever one chooses and for whatever office one may fancy. That has long been a popular diversion with a good many men in Indiana as elsewhere in the United States. We take it, however, that the danger of popular rebellion against the fee provision in the primary law is more apparent than real. The candidate has never been able to escape payment in some form or other. He has been forced to "come across" to the campaign committee which supplied cohesive organization, political strategy, systematic party efforts and at least a simulation of party enthusiasm. He accepts the assessment as a matter of course and he raises no objection. He cannot afford to jeopardize his standing in the party by quibbling over it. Nor will he, we think, care to be put before the public in the attitude of rebelling at the conditions of the race while seeking favor as an entrant in the contest through his own choice. In all probability a good deal of unnecessary worrying is being done over this particular section of the new law. It will "work" without a hitch because nobody seeking office will have the temerity to attempt to reverse the time-honored adage that those who dance may be reasonably expected to pay the fiddler.

One development of the electric lighting industry that has attracted little outside attention but which is of tremendous importance is the arrangement under which half a score or more little Northern Indiana towns are being supplied with electric light by larger neighbors some miles distant. By it many little villages, too small for the maintenance of individual power stations, are supplied with electric current from cross-country lines especially constructed for that purpose. Allen county has a number of instances of this kind, and now the village of Monroe is to be similarly supplied with lighting from Decatur. It is undoubtedly true that we are now seeing but the beginning of electrical development and of the universal use to which it will some day have attained.

Instead of following beaten paths and collecting the ordinary photographic mementoes of their marriage ceremony, an Indianapolis bride and groom will have a motion picture of their wedding ceremony clicked off by the camera man to be treasured during their future years and to be handed down to future generations. It is still necessary to "go some" to keep up with the Hoosier nuptial couple which really sets itself out to provide novelty in the matrimonial way, but the Indianapolis couple has not yet succeeded in wresting first honors from the Fort Wayne airman who selected the aeroplane elopement as the most direct route to wedded bliss.

The recently organized Men's Christian League of Fort Wayne has outlined a constructive program of wide scope and much importance to which it purposes bending its efforts. It hopes to not only assist in improving moral conditions generally, but will give its aid to the movement for hospitals, for playgrounds, for a Y. M. C. A. building and assist in every cause that means advancement for the city. Two thousand men united for work of this character will be mightily helpful to Fort Wayne.

INTERNATIONAL LAW?

(New York World.)

The sum of the matter appears to be that international law is in ruins. Great Britain disregarded it [illegible] in its failure to declare and maintain a true and effective blockade of Germany, while asserting all the rights and privileges of a blockading power. Germany has used its submarines as a mighty remonstrance against stoppage of supplies. The so-called British blockade of Germany is unlawful because it does not exclude Norway and Sweden. The use of submarines is unlawful because they sink and kill without search and by their summary action expose passengers and crews to death.

In a single noteworthy fact we may find a complete explanation of this intolerable situation. The great navies of Britain and Germany refuse to fight. They appear to be afraid of each other. If the British maintained a true blockade of Germany they would be compelled to support it with all of their dreadnoughts in the Baltic as well as in the North sea and the channel. If the Germans maintained, or even attempted, a true blockade of Great Britain, their navy, now hidden in the Keil canal, would have to take the risk of battle. Caution or cowardice is subjecting the whole world to savagery and injustice.

Declining thus far a real test of naval supremacy, both of these belligerents, by irregular methods, are inflicting almost as much injury upon neutrals, as they are upon each other.

RIDING FOR A CENT A MILE.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

President Underwood, of the Erie, is a level-headed railroad man. He diagnoses public sentiment precisely when he urges a reduction of all passenger fares and an increase in freight rates to compensate for whatever losses the roads would suffer. He suggests a cent a mile as a proper passenger rate for the entire country, with reductions on even that low price for suburban traffic. American railroads do not encourage travel by the poorer people as some foreign railroads do. In Japan and India the poor may ride for one-sixth of the price paid for a first-class ticket. It is true that railroad facilities there are primitive compared to the luxuries enjoyed by travelers in the United States, but the rates are made to fit the pocketbooks of everybody. Cheap fares here would stimulate the volume of travel, whereas high fares are sure to restrict it. At the present time freight carries the chief financial burden of American railroads, but a broad-minded interstate commerce commission would add still more to that burden while taking away from demands placed upon passenger business. One of the worst principles ever put forth by that body was when it virtually ordered the railroads to increase passenger fares and keep down freight rates.

you. I am reminded of a story told upon himself by one of our supreme justices of the United States court.

The Judge and His Dilemma.

The learned judge was spending his vacation in the rural section of one of our sister southern states. One day, as he was driving along a lonely and muddy road, a tug broke. The judge alighted, waded through the mud, inspected the broken tug and realized that he faced the serious problem of mending the tug with his very limited resources or the more serious problem of walking several miles to his intended destination.

The long sedentary habits of the judge made this latter alternative look like a buck saw and a wood pile to a professional tramp—a thing to be avoided under all circumstances and at all costs.

A very superficial test showed the judge that the tug was too stiff to tie well and would be too short if tied.

He next searched the harness for a possible string or strap that might be spared from its accustomed duties. But the harness unlike his honor's court, had no tapes—red or otherwise—that could be dispensed with without seriously impairing the efficiency of the machinery.

About the time that the judge was willing to admit that the situation was too much for him a little colored lad about fourteen years of age came in sight over the hill the judge had been trying to ascend.

The judge was relieved by the appearance of the little fellow and when he arrived at the judge's side and said in his warm, sympathetic tone, "Is yo' in trouble, boss?" the judge felt like taking the little fellow into his arms. But, realizing that in his present predicament it was business before pleasure, the judge restrained his emotional appeal and proceeded to draw on his newly acquired ebony assets.

"Do you have any cord in your pockets, son?"

A Matter of Common Sense.

After a brief exploring investigation the lad admitted that he had none. "Do you know where I could get some new harness?"

"No, I doesn't, boss."

"Does any one live near here."

"No, sir, boss. Nobody lives near this place."

"Do you know how I can mend this tug? I just must get out of here some way."

"No, boss, I doesn't spect you can mend it at all."

The judge was just turning back to the broken tug with despair in his heart when the little lad continued by way of addition to his former statement:

"But I spects I can fix it, boss."

The judge grasped at this little ray of hope like a drowning man at a lifeline. The little lad without more ado climbed over the rail fence, peeled the bark from a hickory sapling, and came back and was soon splicing the broken tug as only a colored farmer lad can. In a few moments he turned to the judge and said:

"There you is, boss."

"Well, well, well," said the judge, "how simple, how simple; now why couldn't I have thought of that?"

The little lad, proud of his achievement, turned a beaming face up to the judge and said: "Some folks has just naturally got more sense than other folks has."

An Analogous Situation.

It seems to me, gentlemen, that the situation of the judge is paralleled by this city, state and nation. We have a broken tug that has and is still preventing us from moving on toward our destination a city, state and nation wherein every individual is surrounded by influences and opportunities that makes for his or her highest and best development, a nation wherein every youth may find his surroundings such that he may grow up with a sound body, a clear thinking mind and habits that make for efficiency, good citizenship and wholesome family life.

If there be pitfalls for our youth, if there be habits shocking our citizens, impairing their efficiency and their happiness, we have a broken tug. If there be graft and inefficiency in our government, and if justice be not administered, we have a broken tug.

Gentlemen, I fear that we have more than one broken tug, and many have despaired of ever mending them, or that we shall ever reach our destination—a nation wherein there shall be no parasites living upon others, nor pitfalls into which our boys and girls may fall to a destruction worse than physical death.

New Light Is Breaking.

But, gentlemen, let me say that I see a light breaking. It is more than a ray of hope. With due apologies to the Law Enforcement and Reform league, formed a few days ago in the brewers' quarters in Indianapolis, who assert that they are going to mend the broken tug and set us rejoicing on our way, I am compelled to say that I suspect the honesty of their motives and doubt their abilities. I believe that this association, the Christian Men's league formed by the Christian citizenship of Fort Wayne, will be the laddie with the good sense to find a way to mend the broken tug.

Gentlemen, this league is big with possibilities and it is such a simple and effective means for securing the conditions that we desire, that I am astonished that someone did not think of it long ago. I can explain it in no other way than did the colored laddie, "Some folks has just naturally got more sense than other folks has."

Watching Idle Wheels Go Round.

As a boy several years ago, my companions and I used to build water mills along the brook. In those mills we put as many wheels as possible, it gladdened our boyish hearts to see the wheels go round. It did not matter that the wheels had no purpose, and that they were only to turn in idleness. But, gentlemen we are no longer boys; we have put away childish things, we no longer build toy mills to watch the wheels go round and round. But we have tonight finished a mill that is built for serious business. There is a buzz saw attachment labeled civic committee that will be unsafe for the devil to fool with and his cohorts had best not get into its way. Its teeth are sharp and it will be belted to the dynamic force of 2,000 militant Christian workers. If some of the dens of iniquity, respectable or otherwise, that are setting pitfalls for our youths do not get sawed into tidbits by this buzz saw, it will be because they will see the error of their way and reform, or leave the city and go to Indianapolis, where they may fall into the arms of the Brewers' Law Enforcement and Return league.

Gentlemen, all you need to do is to keep a high steam pressure in your 2,000 membership and the buzz saw will rip open some rotten holes that will do your hearts good and restore your faith that righteousness will prevail.

Will Help the Other League.

I suggest incidentally that your finance committee wait upon the brewers and take their free-will contribution. They will doubtlessly contribute liberally, as this league will take, in part at least, one of their difficult burdens off their shoulders, for if I mistake not this civic committee will be of very material assistance in helping the brewers to force their lawless retailers to obey their laws.

It may be that they will wish to stand godfather to this league, if not adopt it outright. For it is my candid opinion, gentlemen, that the youngster born here tonight will in a very short time surpass in effective law enforcement, their own child born at Indianapolis some days ago.

In fact, this child comes of a parentage that has been trained for a long time in law obedience and civic righteousness, whereas the father of the Indianapolis child—the Law Enforcement and Reform league—has never been accused of excelling in either of the manly virtues of law obedience or law enforcement, and I fear that the Indianapolis youngster will prove weak and inefficient if it does not die in its early infancy. For while the liquor "daddies" may set at naught man-made law, they cannot set at naught the divine law, "that the iniquities of the fathers shall be visited upon the children."

Gentlemen, I think you had better prepare for the infant's death. Then the brewers will in their bereavement turn to the Men's Christian league to assume the duties for which they had hoped to rear their Indianapolis child.

Rap at Business and Fraternal Clubs.

I know you, gentlemen, will never do it, unless the W. C. T. U. beats you to it. Gentlemen, I cannot conceive how an organization of 2,000 Christian workers in Fort Wayne can exist for many moons and not be able to convince our commercial club that they are not so poor that they cannot support their club without setting an example to our young men of flagrant violation of our laws. We believe that this Men's Christian league will be able to inform our citizens that there has been a little error in their zoological information; that the wild animals kept in captivity within our midst—the Moose, Buffalo, Elk, Eagles and allied fowls—do not prosper when they are made to live on booze. Gentlemen, any club of men that is so poor that it cannot live without unfair competition with our saloons has no vital reasons for existing. Whenever a club does a real service for its members and for the community it will prosper without being allied with the liquor traffic. I hope you will help eliminate all such poverty stricken clubs, and you will doubtlessly eliminate all legalized saloons as well.

There are places in the city that are made meeting places for our prostitutes where they may entice our young men and I understand that at least one such place furnishes jitney busses to our parks or adjoining woods.

Gentlemen, if our young men do not care for the rights of the unborn babes, it is time that the Christian citizenship of this city arise in its might, and wipe out places that cater to such prostitution, and I believe you will.

Power for Good Citizenship.

But while I desire to see this association be a power for law enforcement, I shall be sorry to see it exhaust all its energies on the violators of law. This association should be a power for good government and for the encouragement of good citizenship. I trust that it may arouse our citizens to an adequate conception of their civic duties. I trust that it may from this hour be impossible for our officers to be picked by a few in secret councils with the understanding that our government is to be administered for their interests.

I have been informed that at our last legislative primary one of the candidates that was asking for a place on the democratic ticket was approached by the liquor interests and asked to pledge himself, that if nominated and elected he would not be a party to any restrictive legislation against the liquor traffic. He refused their request and was not nominated. I am not saying this to blame the liquor interests but to help arouse our good citizens so that they will demand to know how every candidate asking for their suffrage, stands upon vital questions affecting the general welfare.

It is time, gentlemen, that the last mother's son of you get into active politics and make a fight for wholesome conditions in political affairs. I am ashamed to say that in most towns and cities a few saloon men and their political henchmen influence politics more than thousands of our Christian citizens.

See That Candidates Are Right.

I am not asking you men to vote against your party candidate, but I do ask that you see to it that nothing but clean and trustworthy men get on your tickets. Any Christian voter who refuses to go to the primaries and who fails to inform himself as to the affiliations past and present of the men asking for his vote, is not a good citizen and is not doing his full Christian duty.

But, gentlemen, the civic work is by no means the only work to be done by this association. We are going after the men of this city. We are going to offer them Christian comradeship and Christian help. We are going to ask them to come with us and enjoy the countless joys of an active Christian service.

Men are hungering for comradeship and will bless you for bringing it to them.

This body of men can, and I believe it will, be a great blessing to this city, it can and I believe it will, give added efficiency to our churches.

Let us all therefore go into our churches and into our civic life with a glad hand for all and a determination that Fort Wayne shall be a better place in which to live and a better place in which to rear our boys and girls. Let us act with good judgment, with charity toward the law-breaker, but not charity toward his lawlessness, and I believe that Fort Wayne will rise and call this association blessed.

News of Our Neighbors

BEEN A LAYIN' FER THAT BASS.

Judge Haymond Lands Eight-Pounder at Webster Lake.

Warsaw, Ind., July 13.—When Judge Edgar Haymond landed an eight-and-one-quarter-pound bass at Yellow Banks, Webster Lake, he probably established a record which other Isaac Waltons of northern Indiana will never equal and to all knowledge made the largest bass catch in the history of the county. For years Judge Haymond has angled for a certain bass which inhabited the waters directly in front of his cottage. Daily throughout the summer the judge would spend some time bait casting for the big fish which on several occasions he almost succeeded in landing, only to see the finny monster elude him often when almost within his landing net. Angling for that big bass became a hobby with the judge and chafing under the jests of his doubting companions he became more and more determined to land it.

The veteran angler, now in his 87th year, is spending the summer at his cottage and among his old familiar haunts of Webster lake.

ROANOKE TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

PLAN TRANS-COUNTY ROAD.

Kendallville, Ind., July 13.—At an informal meeting of some of the representative farmers of Wayne, Orange and Elkhart townships, held in the office of William Swogger Saturday evening, a strong sentiment was developed in favor of the construction of an improved highway from Kendallville to Ligonier. Steps will be taken to ascertain the sentiment of the farmers of the several townships through which the proposed road will pass and the movement will be launched without delay.

COMES BACK TO WHITLEY.

Columbia City, Ind., June 13.—Bert Ihrig and wife, of San Pedro, California, have arrived here to spend a month in this county with the R. H. Muring and the J. M. Kaufman families and other relatives. Mr. Ihrig left this city twenty-eight years ago and this is his first trip home during that time. When he left this county he struck out for California and has made his home there through the entire twenty-eight years. AT THE JEFFERSON.

SCREEN'S PRIZE BEAUTY.

Lincoln Highway Pictures.

The initial showing of the pictures taken during the recent Lincoln highway celebration in this city will take place at the Jefferson today and tomorrow, in addition to the regular program. These interesting views were filmed under the direction of the officials in charge of the celebration and take in every phase of the celebration. Vice President Marshal is shown in a number of different poses, a panoramic picture was taken of the machines in the line of march, while all the decorated automobiles received attention, the prize winning cars being given special notice.

AT THE LYRIC.

CHARLES CHAPLIN AT LYRIC.

Charles Chaplin, of whom they say that a thousand people applaud his screen antics somewhere on earth during every minute of the twenty-four hours, makes his latest and without a question of doubt his most humorous appearance at the Lyric today in the hilariously funny Essanay comedy, "A Woman." What the redoubtable Charles has done before in film comedies does not matter when we consider the excruciating manner in which he has grasped and made the most of the humorous possibilities in this picture. Chaplin is absolutely irresistible and during those scenes in the play during which he appears sans mustache, cane, derby and other Chaplin-esque habiliments and impersonates a flirtatious maid of eighteen winters, the mirth of the audience knows no bounds.

As a special feature with the Chaplin comedy, the Lyric will show the first four installments of "The Diamond From the Sky," the famous $800,000 serial-drama starring Irving Cummings, Lottie Pickford, William Russell and Eugenia Forde.

AT THE TEMPLE.

CRACK LIST OF PLAYERS.

Fort Wayne to Enjoy Some of the Best by Paycen Players.

Fort Wayne's lovers of the legitimate comedy and drama, amusement seekers who want to see and hear their favorites in the flesh rather than have them ground out at so much a grind, are assured of some rare pleasure with the Paycen Stock players, judging from the superb list of attractions which E. P. Churchill has arranged for his company. The production now in preparation includes in the order given "The Deep Purple," "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Blindness of Virtue," "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford," Alias Jimmy Valentine," "The Man Who Stood Still," "What Happened to Mary," "The Spendthrift," "Broadway Jones" and "Tess of the Storm Country." These plays will all be staged with the careful and intelligent attention to detail that has marked all the Paycen productions during the company's current engagement.

The players this week are presenting "Pals," the great dramatic story of the Damon and Pythias type of friendship between two men being ruptured by one of them making love to the wife of the other.

MANY GOING BACK TO ITALY.

Several Thousand Reservists Leave Kanawha Coal Country.

Charlestown, W. Va., July 13.—Mine managers here estimate that several thousand Italian reservists have left the Kanawha coal country during the past month to join their regiments in Italy. Many of them are trained mechanics, including electricians and linemen. They usually leave in squads of a dozen or more, coming first to Charleston from the mining towns in this region.

Four or five Fort Wayne plumbers have gone to Chicago to attend the annual plumbers' convention being held in that city this week.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

ALL old-fashioned methods of tranferring embroidery patterns by use of water, benzine and injurious fluids are crude and out-of-date and often spoil expensive materials. This method is safe dry, quick, clean.

EDISON WILL HEAD NEW ADVISORY BOARD

American Inventors to Aid in American Naval Development.

West Orange, N. J., July 13.—Thomas A. Edison has accepted an invitation from Secretary Daniels to head an advisory board of civilian inventors for a bureau of invention and development to be created in the navy department. His acceptance will go forward at once to Washington, where the new plans await word from the man "who can turn dreams into realities."

Mr. Daniels' idea of utilizing the inventive genius of Americans in and out of the military and naval service to meet conditions of warfare shown in the conflict on land and sea in Europe is outlined in a letter written last Wednesday asking Mr. Edison whether, as a patriotic service to his country he would undertake the task of advising the proposed bureau. The plan is to have several men prominent in special lines of inventive research associated in the work.

Among the great problems to be laid before the investigators, the secretary mentioned submarine warfare, adding that he felt sure that with Mr. Edison's wonderful brain to head them the officers of the navy "would be able to meet this new danger with new devices that will assure peace to our country by their effectiveness."

WILL GO ON AUCTION BLOCK.

Winona Assembly Property to Be Offered August 18.

Warsaw, Ind., July 13.—The property of the Winona Assembly and Summer Schools association will be sold at public auction on August 18 by Trustee Lloyd Claycombe, it was announced here at the close of an all day session of the old Winona assembly directors. It was also stated that the old management would be a bidder for the property at the sale.

At today's conference a plan of settlement with the creditors and reorganization was thoroughly worked out. The total debt is about $900,000 and the plan holds a promise for a settlement in full within four or five years. The old Winona management recently made an invoice of the property which totaled $775,000 and, it was stated, if successful in securing the property at the sale will settle with the creditors on that basis.

AS TO PARK CONCERTS.

Mr. Ernest Schelling, the distinguished American pianist and member of Park music committee of the Music League of America, has the following to say in last month's Musical Courier:

"A country's music depends on a country's taste. If the people through listening to good music learn to appreciate it, they will call forth compositions worthy to be ranked with those of the great foreign schools.

"But they will never appreciate good music unless they hear it. Park concerts for that reason mean a great deal more than the mere amusement for a few hours of the people who have nothing else to do. People who go to park concerts go to listen to the music, as a rule they are earnest and attentive and they carry a sincere impression of what they have heard."

CIRCUS AERIALISTS DEMAND INSURANCE

Ringling Performers Bring Suit to Secure Accident Policy.

The Klarkonian family, one of a score of mid-air troupes now appearing with Ringling Brothers' circus, have brought suit in an effort to compel a well known New York insurance company to insure them against accident or loss of life.

The insurance company has refused to accept the risk on the ground that it is too great a hazard. If the Klarkonians will agree to use a net under their act and content themselves with performing the usual feats seen in circus tents, a policy will be written. The company makes positive objection to the triple, twisting somersaults performed by these artists. In the meantime the Klarkonians continue to perform twice daily and their attorneys have instituted suit to compel insurance on the ground that the New York concern has written policies for aerialists appearing with other shows.

This season's program is the most varied the Ringling Brothers have ever devised. It opens with the superb spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba with a cast of 1,250 people, a ballet of 300 dancing girls and a train load of accessories. The arenic display follows the spectacle. It includes the famous Lloyd family in an act depicting the horsemanship of all nations; five herds of trained elephants with the nursery troupe of baby Indo-pachyderms; fifty clowns; three groups of snow-white horses and dogs in poses picturing the masterpieces of famous sculptors and painters; the five highest perch acts in the world in which men and women perform at the top of fifty-foot poles no larger than bamboo; a great company of equestrians led by Charles Augustus Clark, the world's greatest bareback rider; the McCrees and their wonderful canine equestrians; more than twenty troupes of trained wild and domestic animals; the Mijares family, who perform somersaults on slack wires, and many other features all new to America. Ringling Brothers' circus will exhibit here Saturday, July 17.

The editor of this great history is Mr. Ira E. Bennett, with associate editors, John Hays Hammond, celebrated mining engineer; Capt. Philip Andrews, U. S. N.; Rupert Blue, Surg. Gen. U. S. Public Health Service; J. Hampton Moore, Pres. Atlantic Deeper Waterways Ass'n; Patrick J. Lennox, B. A., and William J. Showalter.

One of the most interesting portions of the book is that dealing with the feeding of the immense army of laborers. A few paragraphs concerning one of the foods chosen and supplied by the Commissary Department, are quoted (beginning page 428) as follows:

"Visitors to the canal who were privileged to get a glimpse of the routine inner life will recall a familiar picture of workmen going to their places of labor carrying round yellow tins.

"Often, as they went, they munched a food poured from the tin into the hand. This food, which played no inconsiderable part in 'building' the canal, was the well-known article of diet, 'GRAPE-NUTS.'

"The mention of Grape-Nuts in this connection is peculiarly pertinent. Not merely because Grape-Nuts is a food—for of course proper food was an integral part of the big enterprise—but because it is a cereal food which successfully withstood the effects of a tropical climate. This characteristic of Grape-Nuts was pretty well known and constituted a cogent reason for its selection for use in the Canal Zone.

"This food is so thoroughly baked that it keeps almost indefinitely in any climate, as has been demonstrated again and again.

"One finds Grape-Nuts on transoceanic steamships, in the islands of the seas, in Alaska, South America, Japan, along the China coast, in Manila, Australia, South Africa, and on highways of travel and the byways of the jungle—in short, wherever minimum of bulk and maximum of nourishment are requisite in food which has to be transported long distances, and often under extreme difficulties.

"The very enviable reputation which Grape-Nuts has attained in these respects caused it to be chosen as one of the foods for the Canal Zone."

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

—scientifically made of prime wheat and malted barley, contains the entire goodness of the grain, including those priceless mineral elements so essential for active bodies and keen brains, but which are lacking in white flour products and the usual dietary.

There's a reason why Grape-Nuts food was chosen by the Canal Commissariat. There's a reason why Grape-Nuts is a favorite food of hustling people everywhere.

CUBS OUTHIT ERIE BUT DROP ANOTHER

Had Seven Clean Hits to Erie's Three But Lost 2 and 1.

Scoring a two and one victory on three meagre hits against our seven bingles, Erie got right back of the little god of luck yesterday and kicked our very best Cubs into the second division, usurping fourth place herself. Red Hart pitched and he threw an excellent game, but with the jinx sitting tight in the box his efforts were wasted.

After two runless innings the Erie aggregation got away with one in the third. Brubaker our new shortstop, booted Aldredge's hard one and the latter was safe on first. Nee singled to short and Holderman threw Nee out at second when Stanley forced him to that sack. Aldredge took third on the play and Gygli singled to center, the only clean hit the Ericites put up.

Then all was peaceful till the sixth, several attempts of the Cubs that looked good for a moment falling flat. Then Beyers doubled to left, a hit that was calculated to send a faster runner twice around, and after Hart went up and out Smyth slapped one to center and Beyers rambled across the plate with the tying run.

In the eighth it was Harry Martin who started things that meant the defeat of the Cubs. He sent a nice one out to right and although Bratchi nearly broke his neck to get it he couldn't quite make it. Hart hit Aldredge and the stuff was off. Nee sacrificed and Stanley flew up and out to center, Martin beating the ball to the plate. Score:

INTRODUCING MR. RED HART.

"Red" Hart is as classy a little pitcher as has showed up here in some time, and although he lost yesterday's game it certainly was a star performance. The "breaks of the game," as baseball men call it, worked against him.

TOUGH ON ONE MR. HAGGERTY

Central league umpires received instructions from President Heilbroner today to eliminate the practice of pitchers walking off the slab between deliveries under pretense of getting the catcher's signals. Starting today pitchers will be expected to get the signals from the slab so that patrons will not be compelled to sit and watch a pitcher stroll half way over to first or third base and back between pitches. Umpires will call a ball whenever in his opinion a pitcher is delaying the game unnecessarily. Umpires have also been instructed to call strikes on batters when they are not ready to take their positions at the plate, and to cut out the preliminary practice between innings in case it delays the game.

Here's How Big Cobb Would Have to Be to Tie Golf Ball Swat

Ty Cobb, some ball player, can hit a baseball 400 feet.

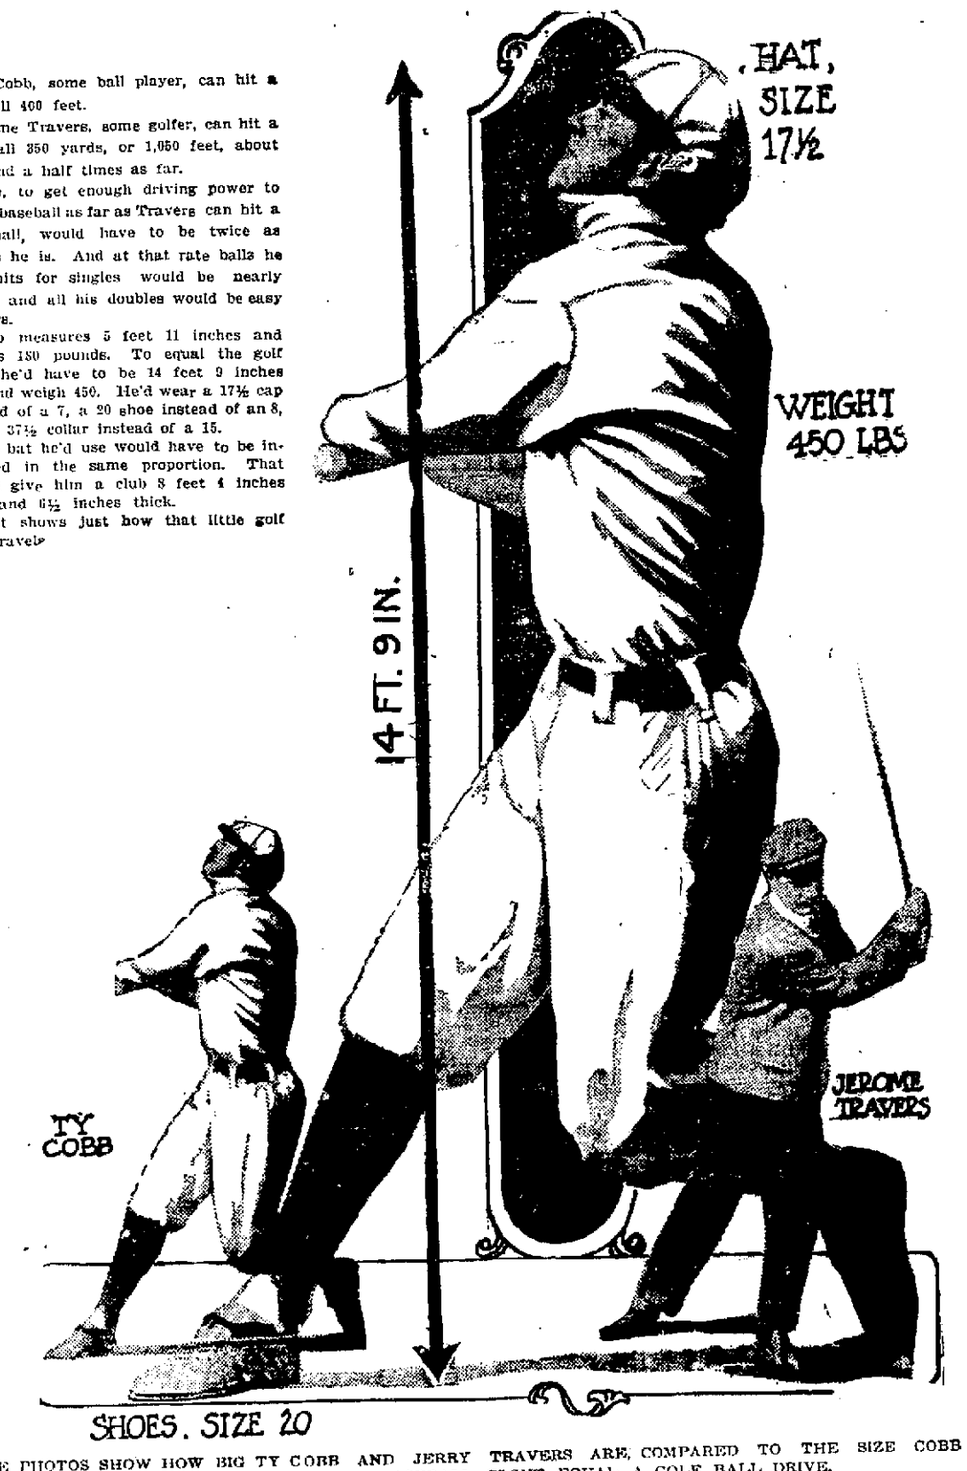
Jerome Travers, some golfer, can hit a golf ball 350 yards, or 1,050 feet, about two and a half times as far.

Cobb, to get enough driving power to hit a baseball as far as Travers can hit a golf ball, would have to be twice as big as he is. And at that rate balls he now hits for singles would be nearly triples and all his doubles would be easy homers.

Cobb measures 5 feet 11 inches and weighs 180 pounds. To equal the golf swat he'd have to be 14 feet 9 inches tall and weigh 450. He'd wear a 17½ cap instead of a 7, a 20 shoe instead of an 8, and a 37½ collar instead of a 15.

The bat he'd use would have to be increased in the same proportion. That would give him a club 8 feet 4 inches long and 6½ inches thick.

That shows just how that little golf ball travels



THE PHOTOS SHOW HOW BIG TY COBB AND JERRY TRAVERS ARE, COMPARED TO THE SIZE COBB WOULD HAVE TO ATTAIN TO MAKE A BASEBALL CLOUT EQUAL A GOLF BALL DRIVE.

Terre Haute	0	0	3	4	0	0	0	0	*	7	7	1

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 13—Although only slightly outhit, Grand Rapids came out the loser in a 17 and 4 affair yesterday. Sheering made two homers and McAuley, Siglin and Keene each got one. Seven doubles and four stolen bases occupied some of the time, and the total hits were thirty-three, Youngstown getting eighteen.

TENNIS CHAMP FACES STARS OF THE COAST.

R. Norris Williams, the Boston tennis champion, will meet some of the best on the courts in the Panama-Pacific exposition matches, and some of the many stars developed on the coast are expected to make him step a pretty lively clip. Dean Mathey, G. M. Church and W. M. Washburn went with Williams to tackle the coast cracks.

THE MODESTY OF SOME PEOPLE IS ASTOUNDING.

(Evansville Journal-News).

Self praise is not always considered in good taste, but Evansville has a right to feel rather chesty in regard to the position it plays in the Central league. Among the managers and ball players of all the seven cities in the league Evansville is known as the banner ball town of the circuit. Not only does the local park surpass anything in the circuit or the country, but the fans here are given credit for being the most loyal.

Jack Compton, the Dayton manager, remarked Friday that Evansville was making a better showing in attendance and in enthusiasm than any other city in the circuit, regardless of the fact that Grand Rapids and Dayton have it on Evansville by several thousand in population. Compton said all the ball players were glad to get to Evansville for they knew they would always find fans.

The Central league, like all other minor organizations, has had its troubles this season, but the Central has stood the storm far better than the majority. Fans overlook the fact that ball clubs must be economical this year, the same as men in business. Business men are not running any larger accounts than necessary and have been cutting expenses. Ball clubs must be run on a similar order and after everything is considered the fans will have to admit that for the most part they have seen good baseball in the Central league.

Del Gainor, late of Fort Wayne and the Detroit Tigers, is making a truly remarkable player with the Sox. He has improved greatly since he left Detroit, where he was constantly getting into the hospital with one injury or another, and now is considered one of the most valuable men in the big show. He plays first and outfield universally well, and has become a favorite of the first water among the fans.

M'GRAW SAYS PRESENT DAY BATTERS PULL.

"The biggest trouble with present day batters is they pull away from the plate instead of wading into the ball," says Jawn McGraw, Giant foreman.

"For a long time I refused to pay attention to folks who said ball players don't hit as well as the old-timers, but now I'm convinced. The youngsters coming up just naturally don't hit, that's all. You can't get them to step into the ball. I haven't played for a long time, but I can get in there any day and hit better than some of the chaps around the circuit."

$425,000 HUNG UP IN GRAND CIRCUIT PURSE.

Harry K. Devereaux, president of the Grand circuit, has announced purses this season will total $425,000, and predicts a big year for harness horse racing.

Circuit races will open in Cleveland, O., July 19. Meets will follow at Detroit, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Montreal, Can., New York, Hartford, Syracuse, Columbus and Lexington.

Devereaux says that in addition to the "regulars," many owners who formerly devoted their attention to the half mile tracks, have entered horses.

A TOUCH O' SUN, A TOUCH O' SUN, MAYBE

Torrid Wave Followed by a Rush of Wives to the Divorce Courts.

Nellie Lindsey, in her complaint for divorce from Harry Lindsey, relates to the superior court that on July 11, without cause, he threatened to kill her with an ax he carried and that when she fled to a bedroom and sought refuge behind a locked door, he battered down the door with his ax and that she believes that but for interference he would have slain her. They were married in April, 1907, and separated the last time immediately following the alleged episode with the ax. She says he has always been cruel in his treatment of her, choking, beating and striking her and that a year and a half ago his conduct became such as compelled her to leave him. She was away from him a year, but says she returned to him on his promise of decent treatment, only to find him within two weeks falling into his old habits of brutality and renewing his false accusations that she was not true to her marriage vows. She asks $1,000 alimony, the custody of two children and has procured an order restraining him from molesting her or drawing his wages from William Pape, by whom he is employed as a painter and paperhanger.

Right After Her Husband.

Theresa Crawl, who haled her husband, Albert Crawl, into police court Monday morning and caused him to be fined for assault and battery on her the Fourth of July, has prepared another treat for him by filing a suit for divorce in the superior court. She says they were married in April, 1911, and separated the 10th of this month. She alleges besides the assault of July 4 that he has frequently chocked and beat her since their marriage, several times knocking her down. She says he has a violent temper and is vicious and dangerous. She asks $500 alimony, the custody of an infant child and $25 a month for its support. She has procured an order to prevent him from molesting her and the Dudlow Manufacturing company from paying him his wages during pendency of the suit.

Also Was Beaten and Choked.

Edith M. Smothers complains in the superior court of Thomas J. Smothers and repeats the story of brutal violence, charging that her husband beat and choked her and threatened her with bodily harm. She says further that he called her vile and abusive names, treated her with studied indifference and inattention and in order to humiliate her taunted here in the presence of others. They were married in January, 1909, and separated the 10th inst. She asks $1,500 alimony and a decree.

The superior court has given judgment for $455 to the plaintiff in the suit of J. G. Lauer vs. George Dager, et al.

Another Luce Suit With Receiver.

The superior court has appointed Attorney Frank M. Hogan receiver for the estate of John Luce, jr., who is a defaulter on his bond to the city court for appearance on a charge of entering a house to commit a felony. He is one of the men who attempted a hold-up at the home of Tom Covington, south of the city, a few weeks ago. The receiver was appointed on complaint of Emmet E. Wright, who says that he has an overdue note for $140.80 against Luce, the defendant, who is alleged to be insolvent. He alleges that Luce's mother has sued her son to set aside a deed to real estate and that Luce will make no defense and that judgment will be taken by default, thus defrauding him.

Annoys Her Threatening Suicide.

Alleging among numerous other things that since their marriage the 15th of last February her husband has constantly annoyed her by threatening to commit suicide, Olive Fought has begun action in the superior court for divorce from Frank Fought. She asks $1,000 alimony. It is alleged in the complaint that he hasn't bought her a thing since they were married, compelled her to live with his parents who were always complaining of her, wouldn't provide her with a home and has failed and refused to work. She says he followed her to her various boarding houses and annoyed boarders and proprietors, compelling her to frequently change locations. They separated three weeks ago.

Notes of the Courts.

The superior court has issued an injunction, prayed for by Addison Herrick, to restrain one Ostermeyer, first name unknown, and Jennie Braybrook from interfering with the plaintiff in the harvesting of a crop of wheat he has on land owned by Jennie Braybrook. It is alleged he leased the land in 1913 and last September put out his crop. In March the land was rented by Jennie Braybrook to Ostermeyer, who refuses to let the plaintiff harvest his crop.

Barney Hessert has brought suit in the superior court against Henry C. Kanning and Henry Hachmeier to recover $650 on a note.

The divorce suit of Katherine Krock vs. George Krock has been dismissed from the superior court.

The suits of the People's Collateral Loan company vs. Newton Relue, Walter Relue and Frank Relue have been set for trial September 1 in the superior court.

Judge Yaple, in the superior court, has granted a divorce to Ezra Orebaugh from John A. Orebaugh and restored her maiden name of Hall, but has forbidden her to remarry for two years.

ond floor, occupied by the Jefferson Shoestore, and the stock of shoes was badly damaged by fire, smoke and water. Water seeped through the walls into the showcases of the Wolf & Dessauer company in the Calhoun street Jefferson theater entrance, and had it not been for the quick removal of the delicate apparel in the cases that company's loss would have been greater.

As soon as the fire was under control Chief Henry Hilbrecht ordered the mop and broom brigade into the building, and a great deal of water was kept from seeping through by sweeping.

Chief Henry Hilbrecht took direct charge of the fight, and he immediately began an investigation of the cause. The fire appeared to have been burning in two places about ten feet apart, one in the rear of the big refrigerator and the other in front of it.

Employes stated that the motor on an ice machine was kept running day and night, and this may have caused the blaze. Crossed wires could not have done it, as the only wires in the vicinity were telephone connections.

All Well at Ten Thirty.

There was no fire at ten thirty o'clock last night according to Manager P. T. Prior, of the meat market.

"I was in here at ten thirty last night," he said, "and everything seemed all right. I didn't go all the way to the back, but I had some things that I wanted to leave on the counter, so I remained only a moment. There was no sign of fire or smoke then."

The greatest loss is to the building itself, the blaze having damaged it to the extent of several thousand dollars. The rear of the meat market room was literally burned out, and the blaze found its way up the walls, through the ceiling to the shoe store and burned a big hole in the rear roof. The fire coming through the roof licked into the second story windows and burned out the frames.

The National Market company places its loss at two thousand dollars, a thousand in meats, five hundred in the refrigerator and the remainder in machinery and fixtures. The Jefferson Shoe company's loss is one thousand dollars, and Wolf & Dessauer's suffered practically no loss.

A. L. Randall and Austin Stultz recently took a 99 year lease on the building owned by William Goodfellow, and converted it into two rooms. The work of remodeling is not yet completed.

BRUDI TO THRESH.

Will Use Gasoline Engine and Haul Grain in Motor Truck.

J. George Brudi, residing near Penn Place, north of the city, is going to thresh at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and he is going to do it in a new way. Instead of a threshing engine he is going to use a gasoline engine and after it is all done he is going to haul the wheat to one of the Fort Wayne elevators in a motor truck. Brudi is one of Allen county's progressive and up-to-date farmers.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

WATCHMAN IS PLACED AT HOLT'S GRAVE IN DALLAS.

Dallas, Texas, July 13.—A watchman, it was learned today, has been placed here at the grave of Frank Holt or Erich Muenter, who shot J. P. Morgan. Mrs. Holt's family employed the guard to prevent desecration of the grave. No tombstone has yet been placed, the grave being marked by a board bearing the name "Frank Holt."

"The situation in the eastern and southeastern theaters of the war remains unchanged."

Harvesting has begun in the western and middle sections of Germany. Reports from Cologne indicate that the crops of rye, oats, wheat and barley will be especially large. Sugar beets are said to be richer in sugar than usual and it is expected that the fruit harvest will be satisfactory.

AIRSHIPS DEFY THE GALE.

Paris, July 13.—The following official communication was issued today:

"In front of our positions at the Labyrinth, a German attack was attempted last night under the protection of a violent curtain of fire. The assailants were decimated and completely thrown back upon their lines.

"There was a combat with hand grenades and cannonading in the forest of Apremont in the region of Renieville, and in the forest of Le Pretre.

"In the Vosges an attempted attack by the Germans directed at a bridgehead occupied by us on the east bank of the Fecht river at Sondernach was repulsed.

"An aerial squadron of 35 aeroplanes ascended this morning in spite of a wind blowing 40 miles an hour, bombarded the railroad station strategically established by the Germans at Vigneulles-les-Hattonchatel. This station served the region of the Calonne trenches and that of the forest of Apremont. Very important stores of every kind, and particularly ammunition were concentrated there. Our aviators dropped upon these objectives 171 bombs of 90 kilograms each. The bombardment started several fires. All our machines returned although they had been violently cannonaded."

NEARLY THREE BILLIONS.

Subscriptions to British War Loan Reach Staggering Total.

London, July 13.—The total subscription to the war loan amounted to close to $3,000,000,000, according to the statement made by Reginald McKenna, the chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons today. The total number of subscribers through the Bank of England was 550,000, whose contributions aggregated $2,850,000,000. The subscriptions through the postoffice have not yet closed, but up to date 647,000 persons have subscribed $75,000,000 through this channel. No figures are available as to the number of small vouchers taken out.

There are signs of renewed activity by the Teutonic forces along the eastern fighting front. Petrograd officially reports lively engagements along the east Prussian front in the Bobr and Narew regions and further to the southwest between the Pissa and Rozoga rivers. There also has been fighting in the Przasnysz region along the line north of Warsaw.

South of Warsaw only sporadic actions have occurred, but from eastern Galicia, where quiet has prevailed for some time, Teutonic attacks along the Zlota Lipa and the Dniester are reported. The upper Bug river near Busk has also been the scene of renewed fighting. Coincidental with this news comes the report that Field Marshal Mackensen's army has been strongly reinforced and that it soon will resume active operations.

Resumption of heavy assaults by the Germans in the Woevre region in France is interpreted by military observers to mean that the failure of recent attempts to break through to Verdun by way of the Argonne is being followed by a similar effort on this new direction through Mytilene and Athens. Paris has a report that as a result of another battle on the Gallipoli peninsula the forces of the entente allies have advanced 200 yards.

According to an Athens dispatch to a London newspaper the kings of Greece, Rumania and Bulgaria are soon to meet in conference at Athens. The attitude of Rumania toward the two groups of belligerents is again widely under discussion. According to statements made by correspondents on the side of the entente allies she has been given a month to accept or reject Austria's offer of territorial compensation for active military assistance or friendly neutrality.

NEW LAW DISCUSSED.

Workingmen's Compensation Act Explained at Meeting of Merchants.

A thorough discussion of the new workingmen's compensation act passed by the last legislature was the principal feature of the meeting of the Retail Merchants' association, Monday evening, at the Commercial club. The law was read by Secretary Kennerk and explained section by section.

Tepper Brothers, E. P. Ofenloch and Dreier Dry company were accepted as members of the association by acclamation. A motion to actively support the Indiana Retail Merchants' association in the defense of the trading stamp law was adopted.

PRIEST CAPTURES ROBBER.

Indianapolis Clergyman Finds Thief in His Room and Gives Chase.

Indianapolis, July 13.—Father Francis Patterson, of St. John's clergy house, after a chase of several blocks, captured John Finn and turned him over to the police last night. The priest said he heard a noise in his room and on investigating found Finn, who started to run. Finn, it is said, had a pair of the priest's shoes and two razors in his possession when captured.

INJURY IN STORM FATAL.

Vevay, Ind., July 13.—Jonas Lee, 83, died of injuries received in the storm here last Wednesday night. His hip was broken while he was watching the storm.

If the day be stormy and rain be falling up to 12 o'clock noon tomorrow, Boys' Day will be postponed till the next fair day.

Mr. Daniels, who appealed to Mr. Edison to undertake the task on patriotic grounds, went ahead today with the perfection of his new plans. Details of the proposed organization, however, will not be completed until the secretary has had an opportunity to confer with Mr. Edison, which he hopes to do very soon.

Others Under Consideration.

It is planned to have men prominent in special lines of inventive and research work associated with the bureau, several names already being under consideration.

One of the big problems to be laid before the new bureau will be that of improving the navy's submarines and aeroplanes, the imperative need of which is recognized. Referring in his letter to Mr. Edison to submarine warfare, Secretary Daniels said that he felt sure that with Mr. Edison's wonderful brain to help them, the officers of the navy would be able "to meet this new danger with new devices that will assure peace to our country by their effectiveness."

M. R. S. Hutchison, personal representative of Mr. Edison, called on Secretary Daniels today and informed him of Mr. Edison's acceptance of the invitation.

Edison Glad to Render Service.

"Mr. Hutchison told me," said Secretary Daniels, "that Mr. Edison regarded my invitation as a call to duty that he would be glad to render any service possible to his country. Mr. Hutchison further stated that Mr. Edison would be very glad to send in a few days his reply to my letter of invitation." Secretary Daniels conferred with Rear Admirals Griffin, Taylor and Strauss, the naval officers who handle the problems of ordnance, construction, engineering and electricity as to the best way to get benefit of the advice of citizen inventors. As to the other advisory members to be invited Secretary Daniels said he was not ready to make any announcement but he felt assured that other men would respond to the call to duty. He expects to make announcement concerning them in a few days.

Explains His Purpose.

"What we want to do in this matter," said the secretary, "is to appeal to the American inventive genius to work for the navy and to study what we ought to do. We want them to give us the best that they can. Already since this war began, much has been done with our own resources. What has been done in the last three months has not yet appeared and work that is going on under supervision of our own experts and engineers will continue. But the idea of the advisory board will be to extend into the realms of the unknown in naval construction and possibilities of naval warfare. We want the advice of genius as to new lines. No one today is able to tell what such advice may bring forth. We cannot tell today what kind of a battleship we should have three years hence.

"For the first time in twenty years we have had an opportunity to test the kind of ships and ammunition that we have in actual naval warfare. Already we are putting guns on submarines and Admiral Taylor is at work on the subject of protection against submarines. I believe there will be as much revolution in naval construction in the future as there has been since the Monitor. The proposed board is one of those things that must grow and work out its own developments."

Secretary Daniels suggested as one of the possibilities the establishment in Washington of a large naval testing laboratory and also said that congress would be asked for a larger appropriation for investigation and experimentation.

WANTS JITNEY HELD AS PUBLIC UTILITY

Indianapolis, July 13.—The Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company today filed with the public service commission a petition asking for an order "declaring persons owning, operating, managing and controlling jitney buses to be public utilities and subject to the authority of the public service commission."

The commission has set July 22 as a date for hearing on the petition. The traction company states in its petition that "the petitioner, a common carrier of passengers operating under local franchises and admittedly under the jurisdiction and subject to the regulation" of the public service commision, is menaced with a substantial and destructive competition of a new type of vehicle or car which is not limited in its operations to any fixed rates, which performs the same service in the same streets between the same points and at the same fare."

GREED CAUSE OF WAR, DECLARES SPEAKER

Declaring that he had no especial topic but that his message was one of brotherhood and the advancement of the cause of human liberty through industrial justice, Dan White, of Chicago, delivered a rousing address on socialism at the assembly room of the court house Monday evening.

Referring to the great war in Europe the speaker declared that the causes primarily of that conflict were brought about through economic and commercial necessities, the getting of markets for manufactured products which would not be bought back or used by the workers who produced them. Suspicion, doubt, greed, prejudice and national hatred contributed their quota of evil in bringing on the most terrible war in the history of the world. Economic pressure, declared the speaker, was therefore the cause of three millions of souls being sent into eternity with other millions of fighting men and non-combatants threatened with death every moment and the total loss of human life increasing every hour. The peoples of Europe had no quarrel, yet the masses of the working class are killing each other. He declared that it was the great moneyed interests and trusts that were interested in sending war supplies to Europe.

"The great Christian Endeavor convention at Chicago considered the question, 'Will John D. Rockefeller Go to Hell?' the speaker continued. "Well, his chances may be just as good as ours, but in the upbuilding of that great fortune Rockefeller must have known that crimes were committed in his name and in the name of the Standard Oil company."

RUN OVER BY AN ENGINE; IS UNHURT

Louis Dera Allowed Entire Locomotive to Pass Over His Body.

Louis Dera, employed at the Pennsylvania company east car shops, was struck by a shop engine at 7:40 o'clock Tuesday morning and fell to the tracks between the rails. He lay perfectly still and the entire engine and tender passed over him, and he got up uninjured, without even a scratch. The accident occurred at the car shops.

It was rare presence of mind or else a complete paralysis from fear that caused the fellow to save his life. Fellow-employes yelled for a pick-up basket and ran toward the point at which his remains were expected, and Dera lay still, his eyes closed, in a peaceful dignity that bespoke a mind unruffled by such things as speeding railroad locomotives.

ANOTHER PENNSY RECORD

Has Been Accorded High Honor at San Francisco Exposition.

The Pennsylvania company today issued the following statement:

The management of the Pennsylvania railroad system has been informed by its representative at the Panama-Pacific exposition, at San Francisco, that the company has been awarded the grand prize, the highest honor which could be conferred upon any railroad system exhibiting at the exposition.

In supplying information requested by the international jury of awards, as a guide to its judgment representing the character and extent of the service which the Pennsylvania railroad system renders to the nation, the company's reply included these facts:

The freight service rendered by the Pennsylvania system in a year is the equivalent of one ton carried 36,000,000,000 miles; the passenger service is equivalent to one person carried 4,500,000,000 miles. The system's receipts are one million dollars per day. It pays out in wages a half million dollars daily and for supplies a quarter of a million. Its employes, in normal times, number upwards of 250,000 and its pay rolls indirectly support 1,000,000 persons.

The Pennsylvania railroad system has 11,800 miles of line, 26,400 miles of track, 7,500 locomotives, 275,000 freight cars and 6,800 passenger cars. It traverses thirteen states and the District of Columbia, and supplies transportation service to more than half the population of the United States. Its 1,500 stations include eight of the ten largest cities in the country.

SCHOYER IN CITY.

Chicago Vice President of the Pennsy Motors Through.

Resident Vice President M. J. Schoyer, of the Pennsylvania company at Chicago, was in this city Monday night. He stopped over at the Anthony in an automobile trip from Chicago to New York and was accompanied by his mother.

SICK ONE YEAR.

F. Henkenius Returns to Work at Pennsy Lumber Yard.

F. Henkenius, of the Pennsylvania company lumber yard, returned to his duties this morning fully recovered, after an illness of more than a year. A year ago last spring he was taken sick, and for a long time his condition was critical, but in the past few months he has recovered rapidly.

AMMUNITION PASSING THROUGH.

Ammunition for the use of the allies in the war zones of Europe is to pass through Fort Wayne daily, until a change in further orders. The ammunition will be carried through here over the Nickel Plate on train No. 4, and will be contained in a special baggage car handled by express.

FEDERATION MEETING.

The Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last evening listened to an address by Organizer Thomas Flynn, and transacted nothing but routine business. The Hendee Manufacturing company was placed on the "fair list" and several committees were rearranged.

GOES ON VACATION.

Foreman M. W. Kemp, of the Pennsylvania company lumber yard, left today on a vacation of two weeks. He will spend part of the time at Canton, O., and the remainder at the lakes.

HAS EYE BURNED.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The awning gang has worked wonders over night on the Grand Rapids and Indiana offices.

E. Feasey, of the Pennsylvania forge shop, and his wife, have gone to Detroit on a vacation.

After several weeks of unusual calm northern travelers are obeying that impulse and the lake traffic has become almost vivid in its sensational advance.

The Pennsylvania company is relaying its tracks on the elevation "hump" in front of the offices.

H. H. Burlage today returned to the Pennsylvania company planing mills after an illness of ten days.

J. C. Brake has returned to the Pennsylvania road foreman's office after a vacation spent in Chicago.

Ward L. Will went east last night.

Mrs. M. Carey, wife of the Pennsylvania shopman, is in Chicago.

Pennsylvania Fireman W. E. Stevens has returned to his duties after being off duty two months with a severe attack of rheumatism.

BIG CROWD VISITS MIDSUMMER SHOW

Ideal Weather Draws 3,000 People and All Seem to Enjoy It.

While there was some disappointment because one or two of the larger feature attractions of the Rutherford Greater Shows, here for the week in connection with the Midsummer Festival given for the benefit of the Anti-Tuberculosis league, were not open at the inaugural exhibition Monday evening, the 3,000 people who visited the grounds seemed to have a good time and the other shows were fairly patronized. Beginning today the main gate will be free and for the balance of the week no admission will be charged for entrance to the grounds. Because of throwing the gates open the special features planned for each night have necessarily been abandoned.

There was thrilling interest Monday evening in the great free open air act given by the Three Eriords, premiere aerialists and teeth gymnasts. It is one of the most beautiful, as well as most sensational acts of the sort ever seen in Fort Wayne. The Erfords will exhibit twice daily—afternoon and evening—during the week.

There was failure to get the water connections made in time to open the electric fountain Monday evening, but it is now in readiness. The Wild West show also had difficulties, due to its late arrival, and could not open, but will have its gates swinging wide the balance of the week.

The big crowd had a merry time in its slow procession from show to show and from booth to booth of concessionaries, listened to the barkers, heard the Royal Italian band and munched peanuts and popcorn.

The "Country Store" is the special concession of the Anti-Tuberculosis league, and it was fairly patronized during the evening. This concession makes a direct appeal to all who want to aid the league in its life-saving work.

If the day be stormy and rain be falling up to 12 o'clock noon tomorrow, Boys' Day will be postponed till the next fair day.

CITY TO GET DEEDS FOR OSAGE STREET

Council Will Ratify Revised Plans for Elevation There.

It is expected that before the city council meets Tuesday evening that the city will be in possession of the deeds for the property donated by William K. Noble for the opening and extension of Osage street through his land and that the council will then suspend the rules and pass the ordinance ratifying the plans for track elevation at the Lake Shore road. This program was agreed upon at a conference of the track elevation committee with Mayor Hosey, City Attorney Colerick and the members of the board of works Monday evening. It is desired to avoid a waste of time by having the new plans referred to the council committee, and the committee was made familiar with them Monday night and can report at the council meeting. With the property in possession for opening Osage street over a new route, some $2,100 of assessments collected from affected property owners for the improvement will be refunded to them by the city. The property donated by Mr. Noble in consideration of the new route for the opening consists of an irregular strip fifty feet wide and approximately 600 feet in length.

CITY WILL NOT RENT IT.

The board of works has declined a proposal made to it by E. Gilmartin & Co., that the city rent a part of the buildings of the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company's plant at Calhoun, Murray and Clinton streets, recently purchased by the Gilmartin interests, and use it for a storage house. The board believes that the rental asked—$5,000 a year—would make such an arrangement unprofitable for the city. The board, for more than a year, has had in hand the architect's plans for a storage building and shops for the city waterworks department, which it is expected will sooner or later be built on municipal grounds situated on North Clinton street.

TO RAISE CLERK'S SALARY.

There will go to the city council Tuesday evening an ordinance to appropriate $40 a month from the track elevation fund to be added to the salary of Henry W. Becker, clerk of the board of public works, whose more than onerous duties in the customary routine of the office are greatly increased by the city's track elevation affairs. Mr. Becker's salary of $1,000 a year is on all hands admitted to be woefully incommensurate with the volume of work he performs and the high efficiency with which it is done. It is said that no man is wholly indispensable in any position, but any of the officials who have held municipal positions during the past four administrations will unanimously agree that the loss of Mr. Becker to the public service of Fort Wayne would create a hole there would be some more or less mad scrambling to fill.

AUDITOR AULT ON DUTY.

John Ault, auditor for the city light and power works, is again on duty after being confined to home for some weeks by reason of an automobile accident in which he was hurled through a windshield and had his throat and chin terribly gashed. He was riding with Rev. Father Noll, of Huntington, who turned his machine into the curb to avoid collision with another car.

TO PAVE WAYNE TRACE.

The board of works has ordered the city engineering department to prepare plans for the paving of Wayne Trace from New Haven avenue to the Pennsylvania railroad right of way, where grades are now being separated.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Filed by First National Bank Against Henry Hite, of Decatur.

Alleging that Henry Hite, a well known business man at Decatur, is indebted to it in the sum of $6,500, the First National bank of this city has filed a petition in the United States court asking that he be declared a bankrupt.

The petition says that the First National bank loaned a large sum of money to the Cardwell Mill company and the Allison Real Estate exchange, with Rufus K. Allison first surety, and Henry Hite and Julius Haugh surety for Allison. The property of the company has been exhausted, it is alleged, and there remains due on the debt $13,000, of which Hite is liable for one-half.

To Get Rid of Unsightly Hairs

There is only one safe and sure way to get rid of hairs—and that is to dissolve them then you kill the hair roots entirely. To do this, get one ounce of simple sulfo solution from your druggist—apply with the finger tips—keep the hairs moist for a minute or two. You will see them gradually shrivel up and dissolve—wash the parts with warm water—and you will find that the hairs have disappeared entirely—leaving the skin soft and smooth as velvet, without a mark or scar of any kind.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR SCHOOL DESKS

At a meeting of the school trustees Tuesday morning the contract for 120 stationary desks for the new Harmer school was awarded to the Peabody School Furniture company, of North Manchester, Ind., and the contract for 168 movable desks, to the Langslow-Fowler company, of Chicago. The bid of the Peabody School Furniture company was $2.29 per seat and the Langslow-Fowler company was $4.25 and $4.50 per seat, depending upon the size.

Bids were submitted by twelve companies as follows: Edward Helmke, jr., E. H. Stafford Manufacturing company, American Seating company, Bayless & Sons, Peabody School Furniture company, Fort Wayne Specialty company, Clausmeyer & Archer, Emporium, Theodore Koontz company and Langslow-Fowler company. Each gave bids according to the catalogue number of the desks manufactured by the company. The stationary seats are to be of birch and mahogany finish and the movable seats are to be of steel and oak.

The bids ranged from $2.20 to $2.50 for the stationary desks and from $4.25 to $10 for the movable desks. The bids were opened at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, but the contract was not awarded until Tuesday morning.

Another meeting of the board will be held Thursday at which time bids will be opened for contemplated improvements at the McCulloch school building.

At the meeting Monday afternoon Mrs. R. K. Erwin and Mrs. E. H. Mertz, representing the petitioners from the Franklin school district, held a conference with the board relative to making the building sufficiently large for adding a German department and the fifth grade. The matter will be taken up later. It is probable that a portable school will be placed at the building.

DAY BRINGS TWO MORE LETTERS FROM PEARCE

New Orleans, La., July 13.—Two more letters signed "Pearce" in which the writer threatens to destroy British merchant and muleships were delivered here today by mail, one to an afternoon newspaper and the other to the chief of police. In both the writer demanded the release of Hans Halbe, held in connection with receipt of a similar letter by the New Orleans Times-Picayune, Sunday night.

Police Chief Reynolds says he regards the letter seriously. Some, who have been watching the case closely are inclined to believe today's letters are a hoax. Their phraseology leads some to believe the writer was attempting to adopt the style of the writer of the one received Sunday night.

WILL ISSUE NEW BAGGAGE TARIFF

Special Committee Completes Its Deliberations—Traction News.

Members of the baggage committee of the Central Electric Traffic association, who were called to Fort Wayne to discuss the Cummins amendment to the act to regulate commerce, have completed their deliberations.

Under the new act the carriers are required to assume all liability for loss and damage, whereas formerly the liability of the carriers was limited to $100 valuation. The committee will recommend the issuing of the supplement to the baggage tariff to comply with the Cummins act and those sending baggage from one state to another will be required to sign a slip declaring the value of the baggage. An extra charge will be made for baggage valued over $100.

The next meeting of the Central Traffic association will not be held until September at which time representatives of all the interurban roads in the central states will gather in this city.

Greenland in Logansport.

On account of the absence of Samuel W. Greenland, general manager of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, the regular weekly meeting of the heads of the different departments was not held Monday. Mr. Greenland returned from Gun Lake, near Shelbyville, Mich., Monday afternoon, and left Tuesday morning for Logansport.

The regular monthly meeting of the Employes' Mutual Beneficial association of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company was held Monday afternoon at the general offices of the company.

Excursion to Niagara Falls.

Two low rate excursions will be operated to Niagara Falls this summer by the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, the first on Wednesday, July 21, and the second on Wednesday, August 11.

The ladies' society of Deborah Rebekah lodge will give a tea in the lodge rooms Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Odowin Doenges, the "Lincoln Highway Kid," who started to walk from this city to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, is now at Fort Bridge, Wyo., according to a letter received by his brother, Louis Doenges 1214 Eliza street.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 13—Prospects of increased receipts here had a bearish effect today on the price of wheat. Selling by cash houses started the market downward and special attention was given to the favorable harvest weather in Illinois, whereas Kansas rains were largely ignored. The opening, which ranged from 1c off to ⅛c advance, was followed by a decided general setback before a recovery began.

The close was strong at 1½c to 2¾c net advance.

Corn eased off on account of improved weather and the sag in wheat values. Buyers were scarce. After opening ⅛@¼c down to a shade advance the market underwent a limited decline all around.

The close, however, was strong at the same as last night to ⅜c higher.

In the oats trade governing influence was the bearish action of other grain. Buying was restricted mainly to resting orders not operative except at losses to sellers.

Provisions scored sharp gains. Belief seemed general that at least for the present liquidating sales had come to an end.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 13.—War stocks again were the dominant features at the opening of today's market, with new high records for Bethlehem Steel, New York Airbrake and General Motors. American Can, which bears some relation to war issues, also sold at a record quotation, likewise Republic Steel preferred. Various industrial and equipment shares rose one to two points, with seven points for Cuban Sugar and an additional twelve for American coal products. Such speculative favorites as United States Steel, Union Pacific and Reading were pratically unchanged while St. Paul and Canadian Pacific were heavy.

The temptation to take profits on the rise caused a general reaction before the end of the first hour, losses in Canadian Pacific, New York Central, New Haven and American Smelting extending from one to two points, while coal products and Cuban sugar yielded virtually all their early gains and Bethlehem Steel fell two points under yesterday's close. Future sales of steel 5s at unchanged prices were the feature of the bond market.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

Forecast till 7 p. m. Wednesday:

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

For Indiana, Ohio and Lower Michigan: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

An area of low pressure occupies the northeast, and another the Rocky mountain region. High pressure covers the Mississippi valley and there is also high pressure off the north Pacific coast. Showers have resulted from this pressure distribution in various widely separated localities in the northern part of the country, and also in the middle Mississippi valley. Temperatures are practically normal over the greater portion of the country, and during the last twenty-four hours no temperature change of importance occurred except in a few localities.

Conditions indicate generally fair weather during the next thirty-six hours. There will be no marked change in temperature, but the tendency is towards higher temperature.

P. M'DONOUGH,
Local Forecaster.

PHOTOGRAPHERS ARE TO HAVE BIG TIME

Those contemplating having their pictures taken next week had better have it done this week. Next week nearly every photographer in the city of Fort Wayne will be in Indianapolis attending the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Photographers' Association of America.

Among those who are going from Fort Wayne are: Ed F. Perry, F. Schanz, M. L. Jones, C. S. Hurdle, N. P. Standish, Henry Herman, of the Wayne studio, and Jesse E. Eark, of the New York studio. There will probably be others.

The convention promises to be the largest gathering of professional photographers ever held, as every state in the union will be well represented.

A deed to 978,055 acres of land was filed recently at Dalhart, Dallam county, Tex., the price being $4,736,000; $50 in revenue stamps was attached.

TEUTON AND GAUL FORGET GREAT WAR

Stage Friendly Souse Out of Which a Deadly Assault Issues.

Joe Donstetter, a German cook, and Eduard Tino, a French chef, started a promising movement for world peace, Monday afternoon, and were getting along fine until they entered the Heidelberg cafe on Calhoun street. Both were thoroughly mellowed with fraternal sentiments and copious imbibations of strong drinks so much so indeed that the man refused to let them have anything in the place. Tino wandered to the street and pillowed his head against a pillar of the People's Trust building. Donstetter ordered a beer and as the bartender was serving it that functionary decided Donstetter had enough and more and politely withdrew the full and heady flagon. This incensed Donstetter, who seized a heavy stein and was about to hurl it at the bartender when Jacob Clemons, the aged father of Dan Clemons, proprietor of the Heidelberg, seized the drunken and angry man's arms. Donstetter, who is heavy and powerful, with terrific force hurled the elder Clemons away from him and the old man was catapulted into the lunch stand, upon the sharp edge of which a gash some six inches in length was cut in his forehead. The injured man required the attention of a surgeon, who took half a dozen stitches in closing the wound. Officer Paul arrested both Donstetter and Tino. Judge Kerr fined Donstetter $10 and costs and added twenty-five days in jail and assessed Tino $5 and costs. Mr. Clemons, who is 70 years old, was merely trying to prevent a deadly assault on the bartender. Donstetter broke down and blubbered heartily in court.

Youth in for Vicious Assault.

Roy Burton, aged 15, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on George Singer, a 9-year-old lad, and the case was certified to the juvenile court. The Singer boy and a sister who is older were in a swing at the Guildin playgrounds when the Burton lad came along and wanted the swing, it is said. According to the story given the police Burton threw the smaller boy from the swing to the ground and then viciously kicked him two or three times.

Other City Court Cases.

John Noltung, a Roumanian, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct and went to jail. He was arrested on the Wabash track elevation near Taylor street by Officer Boseker, who saw the foreigner make an indecent spectacle of himself.

Sam Carpenter, who comes in from the country occasionally and puts on a souse, was arrested by Officer Hartzell. He drew $5 and costs and went to jail.

John Coughlin, arrested on a drunk charge, was continued to July 16 and went to jail in default of $100 bond. A more serious charge may be filed against him.

Jim Moore, who has been on a prolonged spree and is much shot to pieces, was continued until the 17th on a drunk charge and was put under $200 bond to keep him locked up away from drink.

Mike Callahan, a drunk, who was found down and out early Tuesday morning on North Clinton street, was turned loose.

Bruce E. Kirkland and J. R. Banta appeared in court to answer charges of not having their auto lights going after dark. Their machines were standing on West DeWald street and they were just about to turn on their lights when Officer Eyerley came along and ordered them to report to headquarters. Judge Kerr read the law to them and continued the cases indefinitely, as there was no evidence of intent to violate the law.

Two of the Three Sensational Erfords, Great Free Act at Midsummer Festival.

The Three Erfords—world's premier aerialists and teeth gymnasts—have been engaged for the week to give two free open-air performances daily at the Midsummer Festival on North Clinton street. Their act is brilliant, thrilling and beautiful. Mlle. Tasma, who has the distinction of being the greatest spinner who performs in the air, takes her name from an abbreviation of her native land of Tasmania in the far antipodes. The Erfords' act is scarcely describable in words. It must be seen.

ATTENDS CONVENTION.

Clarence Spiegel, son of F. C. Spiegel, is attending the national convention of the Walther league this week at Los Angeles, Cal., as a delegate from the Emmans Young Men's society. He expects to visit with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Kirchner and his cousin, Rev. E. Kirchner and family, who live at San Luis Obispo and after visiting with them for several weeks will make an automobile trip with Rev. Kirchner to the exposition at San Francisco, a distance of 250 miles.

Mr. Spiegel writes that on his trip to the convention he stopped at the exposition and saw Art Smith loop-the-loop at night. He says that there is no doubt but that Art is putting Fort Wayne on the map at the exposition.

Mr. Spiegel expects to visit Yellowstone park on his return trip, which will be the latter part of August, in time to attend the opening of Concordia college, where he is a student in the senior class.

A FAREWELL DINNER TO MRS. A. E. DONNAN

A farewell dinner in honor of Mrs. Ada E. Donnan, formerly president of the Y. W. C. A., who leaves soon for her new home in Newcastle, Pa., was given at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the class rooms of the association building, which were turned into a banquet hall. Mrs. Donnan's resignation was accepted with regret by the board of directors, who, with the secretaries of the association, were present at the dinner Tuesday afternoon.

Covers were laid for thirty and those who attended the affair found on their place cards a friendship quotation and a bunch of pansies pinned to the upper corner. The quotations were read after the five course dinner was served. The ice cream was served in small flower pots and a large red rose was placed in the middle of each dish.

The rooms were very beautifully decorated with various kinds of flowers, roses being the most predominent.
